Compensation (Fatal Injuries) Act 1968 No 9 (repealed)

Republication No 6

Effective: 2 November 2002

Republication date: 4 November 2002

As repealed by Act 2002 No 40

Authorised by the ACT Parliamentary Counsel

About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Compensation (Fatal Injuries) Act 1968 (repealed) (including any amendment made under the Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 (Editorial changes)). It also includes any commencement, amendment, repeal or expiry affecting the republished law to 2 November 2002.

The legislation history and amendment history of the republished law are set out in endnotes 3 and 4.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 authorises the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation Act 2001, s 115 and s 117). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

This republication does not include amendments made under part 11.3 (see endnote 1).

Uncommenced provisions and amendments

If a provision of the republished law has not commenced or is affected by an uncommenced amendment, the symbol U appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the uncommenced provision or amendment appears only in the last endnote.

Modifications

If a provision of the republished law is affected by a current modification, the symbol M appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the modifying provision appears in the endnotes. For the legal status of modifications, see Legislation Act 2001, section 95.

Penalties

The value of a penalty unit for an offence against this republished law at the republication date is—

- (a) if the person charged is an individual—$100; or
- (b) if the person charged is a corporation—$500.

Compensation (Fatal Injuries) Act 1968 (repealed)

An Act relating to compensation to relatives of persons whose deaths are caused by wrongful acts, neglects or defaults

1 Name of Act

This Act is the Compensation (Fatal Injuries) Act 1968.

2 Dictionary

The dictionary at the end of this Act is part of this Act.

Note 1 The dictionary at the end of this Act defines certain words and expressions used in this Act, and includes references (signpost definitions) to other words and expressions defined elsewhere in this Act.

For example, the signpost definition 'member, of a deceased person's family—see section 3.' means that the term 'member' is defined in that section.

Note 2 A definition in the dictionary (including a signpost definition) applies to the entire Act unless the definition, or another provision of the Act, provides otherwise or the contrary intention otherwise appears (see Legislation Act 2001, s 155 and s 156 (1)).

2A Notes

A note included in this Act is explanatory and is not part of this Act.

Note See Legislation Act 2001, s 127 (1), (4) and (5) for the legal status of notes.

3 Meaning of member of deceased person's family

Each of the following persons is, for this Act, a member of a deceased person's family:

- (a) the widow or widower of the deceased person;
- (b) a child of the deceased person;
- (c) a person to whom the deceased person stood, immediately before his or her death, in loco parentis;
- (d) a person who, immediately before the death, was acting in place of a parent of the deceased person;

- (e) a parent of the deceased person;
- (f) a brother, a sister, a half-brother and a half-sister of the deceased person;
- (g) a former wife or former husband of the deceased person;
- (h) a person who, although not legally married to the deceased person, was immediately before the death of the deceased person living with the deceased person as wife or husband on a genuine domestic basis.

4 Application of Act to children

For this Act—

- (a) an illegitimate person shall be treated as being, or as having been, the legitimate child of his or her mother and reputed father; and
- (b) a child of the deceased person born alive after the death of that person shall be treated as having been born before the death of the deceased person.

5 Application of Act generally

This Act applies to the death of a person after 12 June 1968, even if the act or omission that caused the person's death happened on or before that date.

7 Liability in relation to death of person

If the death of a person is caused by a wrongful act or omission and the act or omission is such that it would, if death had not ensued, have entitled the person injured to maintain an action and recover damages in relation to the injury, the person who would have been liable if the death had not ensued is liable to an action for damages despite the death of the person injured and whether or not the death of that person was caused by circumstances that were an offence.

8 One action for benefit of members of deceased person's family

- (1) Not more than 1 action under this Act shall be brought against a person in relation to a death.
- (2) Subject to section 13 any such action shall be brought by and in the name of the personal representative of the deceased person for the benefit of those members of the deceased person's family who sustained damage because of his or her death.

10 Damages

- (1) In an action under this Act, the court may award to the parties respectively for whose benefit the action is brought, the damages that it may think proportioned to the injury resulting from the death of the person injured.
- (2) The amount of damages recovered under this section shall, after deducting the costs not recovered from the defendant, be divided among the persons for whose benefit the action is brought in the shares the court determines.
- (3) The damages may include an amount to compensate for—
 - (a) any reasonable funeral expenses; and
 - (b) any reasonable medical or hospital expenses related to the injury that resulted in the death;paid or payable by a person for whose benefit the action is brought.
- (4) An amount to compensate for any reasonable funeral expenses may be reduced to such an extent (if any) as the court considers just and equitable having regard to the age and health of the deceased person immediately before the occurrence that gave rise to the cause of action.

- (5) In determining whether an expense is reasonable for subsection (3) (a), regard shall be had to the religious and cultural circumstances of the deceased person and the members of his or her family.
- (6) In assessing damages in relation to liability under this Act, there shall not be taken into account by way of reduction of damages—
 - (a) a sum paid or payable on the death of, or personal injury to, the deceased person under a contract of insurance; or
 - (b) a sum paid or payable out of a superannuation, provident or like fund, or by way of benefit from a friendly society, benefit society, lodge or trade union; or
 - (c) a sum paid or payable by any government or person consequent on the death or injury of the deceased person and being—
 - (i) a payment instead of furlough or long service leave; or
 - (ii) a payment by way of pension, social service benefit or repatriation benefit; or
 - (d) a sum paid or payable as a gratuity consequent on the death of the deceased person; or
 - (e) any sum in relation to the acquisition by a member of the deceased person's family, consequent on the death, of, or of an interest in, a dwelling used at any time as the home of the member, or of, or of an interest in, the household contents of any such dwelling; or
 - (f) a premium that would have become payable under a contract of insurance in relation to the life of the deceased person if he or she had lived beyond the time when he or she died.

(7) In this section:

funeral expenses includes costs related to all or any of the following:

- (a) the publication of death and funeral notices;
- (b) the services of an undertaker, including the provision of vehicles;
- (c) wreaths or floral tributes;
- (d) a funeral service;
- (e) a service at the burial or cremation site;
- (f) burial or cremation;
- (g) a headstone, plaque, tablet or other memorial.

11 Contributory negligence not defence

- (1) If a person (the deceased person) has died as the result partly of the deceased person's failure to take reasonable care (contributory negligence) and partly of the wrong of someone else, the damages recoverable in an action under this Act for the wrong are not to be reduced because of the deceased person's contributory negligence.
- (2) This section does not apply to a cause of action that arose before 6 December 1991.
- (3) In this section:

wrong means an act or omission (whether or not an offence)—

- (a) that gives rise to a liability in tort; or
- (b) that amounts to a breach of a contractual duty of care that is concurrent and coextensive with a duty of care in tort.

12 Payment into court

- (1) If an action is brought under this Act, the defendant may pay an amount of money into court as compensation for the benefit of the persons for whose benefit the action is brought and who are entitled to compensation under this Act without specifying the shares into which that amount is to be divided by the court.
- (2) If an amount of money is paid into court by way of compensation, no part of that amount shall be paid out of court except under an order of the court.

13 Alternative action if personal representative is not appointed or does not bring action

- (1) If an action under this Act has not been begun by and in the name of the personal representative of a deceased person within 6 months after the death of the deceased person, any 1 or more of the persons for whose benefit an action under this Act may be brought may bring an action under this Act.
- (2) A person other than the personal representative of the deceased person may bring an action under this Act only if the action is for the benefit of the members of the deceased person's family who sustained damage because of the deceased person's death.
- (3) This Act applies to the action, with any necessary changes, as if it were an action by the deceased person's personal representative.

14 Special endorsement on writ of summons

The writ of summons or other process by which an action under this Act is begun shall, in addition to any other endorsements required or permitted to be made, be endorsed with a statement specifying the names of each of the persons for whose benefit the action is brought and the relationship of each of those persons to the deceased persons.

15 Powers of court to make orders in relation to actions

(1) If—

- (a) an action under this Act has been begun; and
- (b) the court is satisfied that a person whose name is not included in the names of the persons for whose benefit the action is stated to have been brought is a person whose name should have been so included; the court may, on application made by or on behalf of that person, or on its own initiative, order that the action shall proceed as if the name of that person had been so included.

- (2) In proceedings under this Act, the court may order that any 1 or more of the persons for whose benefit the action has been brought be separately represented by a lawyer.
- (3) If the court makes an order under this section, the court may, at the same or a subsequent time, make the orders in relation to procedure in the action that it considers appropriate.
- (4) The powers of the court under this section are in addition to, and do not limit, any other powers of the court.

16 Provisions applicable if action tried before court with jury

If an action under this Act or the assessment of damages in an action under this Act is tried before the court with a jury, the references in section 10 to the court are references to the jury before which the action is tried.

Dictionary

(see s 2)

Note 1 The Legislation Act 2001 contains definitions and other provisions relevant to this Act.

Note 2 In particular, the Legislation Act 2001, dict, pt 1, defines the following terms:

- public trustee
- State
- the Territory.

child, of a deceased person, includes a grandchild and a stepchild of the deceased person.

member, of a deceased person's family—see section 3.

parent, of a deceased person, includes a stepfather, a stepmother, a grandfather and a grandmother of the deceased person.

personal representative, of a deceased person, means the person to whom any grant of probate of the will or administration of the estate of the deceased person has been made in the ACT or a State, and includes an executor by representation or the public trustee.

1 About the endnotes

Amending and modifying laws are annotated in the legislation history and the amendment history. Current modifications are not included in the republished law but are set out in the endnotes.

Not all editorial amendments made under the Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 are annotated in the amendment history. Full details of any amendments can be obtained from the Parliamentary Counsel's Office.

Uncommenced amending laws and expiries are listed in the legislation history and the amendment history. These details are underlined. Uncommenced provisions and amendments are not included in the republished law but are set out in the last endnote.

If all the provisions of the law have been renumbered, a table of renumbered provisions gives details of previous and current numbering.

The endnotes also include a table of earlier republications.

If the republished law includes penalties, current information about penalty unit values appears on the republication inside front cover.

3 Legislation history

This Act was originally a Commonwealth ordinance—the Compensation (Fatal Injuries) Ordinance 1968 No 9 (Cwlth).

The Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Act 1988 (Cwlth), s 34 (4) converted most former Commonwealth ordinances in force in the ACT into ACT enactments. This allowed the ACT Legislative Assembly to amend and repeal the laws. This Act was converted into an ACT enactment on 11 May 1989 (self-government day).

As with most ordinances in force in the ACT, the name was changed from Ordinance to Act by the Self-Government (Citation of Laws) Act 1989 No 21, s 5 on 11 May 1989 (self-government day).
