Parole Act 1976

A1976-29

Republication No 5

Effective: 29 March 2001 – 11 September 2001

Republication date: 19 November 2008

About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Parole Act 1976 effective 29 March 2001 to 10 September 2001.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation (Republication) Act 1996, part 3, division 2 authorised the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation (Republication) Act 1996, s 14 and s 16). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

(1) Where a person who is serving a sentence of imprisonment (in this section called “the previous sentence”) is sentenced to a further term of imprisonment (in this section called “the further sentence”), subsections 7 (1) and 7 (2) apply as if the court by which the further sentence is imposed had sentenced the person to imprisonment for a term equal to the aggregate of the terms of the previous sentence and the further sentence.

(2) Subsection (1) applies whether the previous sentence was imposed before or after the commencement of this Act.

- (3) The imposition of the further sentence revokes any nonparole period fixed in respect of the previous sentence.

- (b) deliver to the Chairperson any reports relating to the person that have, during that part of the nonparole period that has expired, been submitted to the Secretary.

(2) Where—

- (a) a nonparole period has been fixed in respect of a person; and

(3) Where the Secretary receives from an authority of the State an application by a person for release on parole, the Secretary shall forthwith deliver to the Chairperson the application and any reports relating to the person that have been submitted to the Secretary, other than reports already delivered to the Chairperson in accordance with subsection (1) or (2).

the Secretary shall forthwith deliver that report to the Chairperson.

(5) In this section, a reference to reports submitted to the Secretary shall be read as including a reference to reports that were, before the date of commencement of the Parole (Amendment) Act 1982, submitted to the authorised officer but were not, before that date, delivered to the Chairperson.

(3) Where the Chairperson receives an application in pursuance of subsection 17 (3), he or she may, instead of convening a meeting of the Board to consider the release on parole of the person by whom the application was made, cause the application to be considered by the Board at its next meeting.

19. Certain prisoners not to be refused parole without the opportunity of a hearing

(1) Where—

- (a) the nonparole period in respect of a person has expired; and
- (b) the Board is of the opinion that the information before the Board does not justify the release of the person on parole;

the Board—

- (c) shall cause a statement in writing of the reasons for its opinion to be given to the person; and
- (d) shall direct that, if the person so requests, he or she be brought before the Board.

(2) A request by a person for the purpose of paragraph (1) (d) is not effective for the purpose of this section unless it is made in writing before the expiration of a period of 7 days after the day on which the statement referred to in paragraph (1) (c) is given to the person.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), a person brought before the Board in accordance with a direction under subsection (1)—

- (a) may be asked by a member such questions as the member thinks fit; and
- (b) is not bound to answer a question put to him or her if the answer to the question would incriminate, or would tend to incriminate, the person or his or her spouse or would tend to expose the person or his or her spouse to proceedings for an offence against a law of the Commonwealth or of a State or a Territory.

(4) The Chairperson may disallow a question put to a person in pursuance of subsection (3) if, in the opinion of the Chairperson, the question is unfair or unduly prejudicial to the person.

(5) Where a statement has been given to a person in accordance with subsection (1), the Board shall not decline to make a parole order in respect of that person unless—

- (a) the person has failed to make a request in accordance with subsection (2); or
- (b) the person has been brought before the Board and, having taken into account the matters (if any) put by him or her to the Board, the Board is of the opinion that he or she should not be released on parole.

20. Release on parole

(1) Where—

- (a) a person is serving a sentence of imprisonment; and
- (b) a nonparole period has been fixed in respect of that person;

the Board may, by order, direct that the person be released from prison on parole at a time specified in the order.

(1A) When considering the making of a parole order in respect of a person, the Board shall have regard to any concern, of which it is aware, expressed by a victim about the need for protection from violence or harassment by the person.

(1B) Where subsection (1A) applies, the Board shall take all reasonable steps to inform the victim (or if the victim is a child, the person who has care and control of the child), as soon as practicable of—

- (a) the Board's decision concerning the making of the order; and
- (b) if the Board decides to make the order—the date on which the person concerned is to be released on parole.

(2) Subject to subsection (3), the time to be specified in an order for the purpose of subsection (1) is such time as the Board thinks proper, being a time not earlier than the expiration of the nonparole period.

(3) The Board may, in a parole order, specify a time earlier than the expiration of the nonparole period if the Board is satisfied—

- (a) that the person to be released has exhibited such excellence in general behaviour, and has made such endeavours in relation to rehabilitation, that it is desirable that he or she be released on parole before the expiration of the nonparole period; or
- (b) that there are special circumstances that justify the release of the person on parole before the expiration of the nonparole period.

(4) The Board shall not, in pursuance of subsection (3), specify in a parole order a time that is earlier than the expiration of the nonparole period by a number of days that exceeds the number calculated at the rate of 4 days for every month, or part of a month, of imprisonment actually served.

- (b) if the parole period expires, without the parole order being revoked, he or she shall be deemed to have served the period of imprisonment that remained to be served at the commencement of the parole period and to have been discharged from that imprisonment.

(3) Where a parole order is, by virtue of section 22, to be deemed to have been revoked immediately before the expiration of the parole period, subsection (2) has effect as if the parole period had not expired without the parole order being revoked.
