About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Drugs of Dependence Act 1989 effective 13 August 1998 to 13 April 1999.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation (Republication) Act 1996, part 3, division 2 authorised the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation (Republication) Act 1996, s 14 and s 16). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

127. Power of court where offender about to leave Territory

(1) Where a court is satisfied that an offender brought before it pursuant to section 126 is about to leave the Territory with the intention of avoiding any of the requirements of an order under this Division, the court shall—

- (a) if the court is the Magistrates Court and the order was made by the Supreme Court—remand the officer in custody to be brought before the Supreme Court; or

(2) Where an offender fails to comply with the condition of a recognisance entered into for the purposes of this Division, the court has the same powers as it would have if at the time the offender entered into the recognisance he or she had been a defendant.

129. Revocation and variation of periods of orders

(1) On the application of an offender in respect of whom a treatment order was made, or of the Director in relation to such an order, the court which made that order may—in accordance with the recommendation of a panel if, having regard to the circumstances which have arisen since the order was made, it appears to the court to be in the interests of justice to do so.

(2) Where, under subsection (1), a court revokes an order, the court may make such other order in respect of the relevant offender as it thinks fit, being an order that the court would, if the offender were then before the court for sentence for the offence in respect of which the firstmentioned order was made, be empowered to make, and in making such an order the court shall have regard to—

- (a) the length of the period or periods of compliance with the firstmentioned order; and
- (b) any other orders made in relation to the original offence.

- (b) any person who the Director of Public Prosecutions believes on reasonable grounds to have had an interest in the substance immediately before its seizure; and

195. Final disposal of seized substances

Where an analyst has identified a seized substance as being or containing a drug of dependence or a prohibited substance, the Government Analyst shall cause any remaining quantity of the substance to be disposed of—

Citation of Laws—The Self-Government (Citation of Laws) Act 1989 (No. 21, 1989) altered the citation of most Ordinances so that after Self-Government day they are to be cited as Acts. That Act also affects references in ACT laws to Commonwealth Acts.

2. The Legislation (Republication) Act 1996 (No. 51, 1996) authorises the Parliamentary Counsel in preparing a law for republication, to make certain editorial and other formal amendments in accordance with current legislative drafting practice.
