ACT GOVERNMENTBirths, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1997*

Registrar-General's Office

BIRTH REGISTRATION STATEMENTPRIVACY COLLECTION STATEMENT (PRIVACY ACT 1988 (C'WLTH))*PRIVACY NOTES

The Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1997 authorises the Registrar-General to collect the information required by this form for the establishment and maintenance of registers and in processing your application. The Registrar-General prevents any unreasonable intrusion into a person's privacy in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (C'wlth). However, the Registrar-General provides identifiable information to law enforcement organisations and authorised organisations that have legal authority to request information under prescribed circumstances.

WHY REGISTRATION IS IMPORTANT

You are required by law to register the birth of a child within 60 days of the date of the birth. If you fail to lodge a birth registration statement, the Registrar-General may register the birth with incomplete information. The Registrar-General may assign a name to a child if the name stated is a prohibited name or the parents are unable to agree on a name. It is in the best interests of both the parents and the child that the birth is correctly and completely registered. If you do not register your child's birth, you will not be able to obtain a birth certificate for your child. A standard birth certificate provides legal evidence of age, place of birth and particulars of the parent(s), and may be required for school enrolment, drivers licence, employment and government benefits. Commemorative certificates are not generally accepted as a legal document. It is compulsory to register all live births, and in the case of stillbirths where the child is 400 grams or more or of at least 20 weeks gestation.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR REGISTRATION

The parent(s) of a child are responsible for having the child's birth registered, and must sign this form, whether or not they are married. The Registrar-General will refrain from entering details of a parent who has not signed this form. In the case of stillbirths the parent(s) may permit hospital staff to complete this form on their behalf, however the parent(s) must still sign the form. You should complete the attached form and deliver or post it to the address below within 60 days of the child's date of birth. The hospital or medical attendant should complete the birth details section of this form. Please print clearly and carefully check that all details provided are correct. Inaccurate information may delay registration of the birth or cause problems in the future.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Traditional cultural naming practices are acceptable, however legislation prevents non-English symbols from being entered into the register. A parent of a child means the child's mother, father or someone else who is presumed under the Parentage Act 2004 to be a parent of the child. The statistical information relating to Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander origin are collected for the Australian Bureau of Statistics for health and welfare purposes only. Each parent must initial any alterations made on this form.

FEES CURRENT TO 30 JUNE 2007

There is no fee to lodge a birth registration statement, however a fee is applicable if you require a birth certificate. If you wish to apply for a birth certificate you may complete the attached application form, and lodge your application with the birth registration statement.
