About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Long Service Leave Act 1976 (including any amendment made under the Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 (Editorial changes)) as in force on 22 September 2012. It also includes any commencement, amendment, repeal or expiry affecting this republished law to 22 September 2012.

The legislation history and amendment history of the republished law are set out in endnotes 3 and 4.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel’s Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 authorises the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation Act 2001, s 115 and s 117). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

This republication does not include amendments made under part 11.3 (see endnote 1).

Uncommenced provisions and amendments

If a provision of the republished law has not commenced, the symbol \[U\] appears immediately before the provision heading. Any uncommenced amendments that affect this republished law are accessible on the ACT legislation register (www.legislation.act.gov.au). For more information, see the home page for this law on the register.

Modifications

If a provision of the republished law is affected by a current modification, the symbol \[M\] appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the modifying provision appears in the endnotes. For the legal status of modifications, see the Legislation Act 2001, section 95.

Penalties

At the republication date, the value of a penalty unit for an offence against this law is $110 for an individual and $550 for a corporation (see Legislation Act 2001, s 133).

Long Service Leave Act 1976

An Act relating to long service leave
Part 1 Preliminary

1 Name of Act

This Act is the Long Service Leave Act 1976.

2 Dictionary

The dictionary at the end of this Act is part of this Act.

Note 1 The dictionary at the end of this Act defines certain terms used in this Act, and includes references (signpost definitions) to other terms defined elsewhere in this Act.

For example, the signpost definition ‘period of service’—see section 2G.’ means that the term ‘period of service’ is defined in that section.

Note 2 A definition in the dictionary (including a signpost definition) applies to the entire Act unless the definition, or another provision of the Act, provides otherwise or the contrary intention otherwise appears (see Legislation Act, s 155 and s 156 (1)).

2A Notes

A note included in this Act is explanatory and is not part of this Act.

Note See the Legislation Act, s 127 (1), (4) and (5) for the legal status of notes.
2B Offences against Act—application of Criminal Code etc

Other legislation applies in relation to offences against this Act.

Note 1 Criminal Code
The Criminal Code, ch 2 applies to all offences against this Act (see Code, pt 2.1).

The chapter sets out the general principles of criminal responsibility (including burdens of proof and general defences), and defines terms used for offences to which the Code applies (eg conduct, intention, recklessness and strict liability).

Note 2 Penalty units
The Legislation Act, s 133 deals with the meaning of offence penalties that are expressed in penalty units.
Part 2   Important concepts

2C Commission recipients may be employees
   A person may be an employee for this Act even though the person is paid completely or partly by commission.

2D Benefits under this Act and LSL (BCI) Act
   (1) This section applies to an employee who—
       (a) was registered under the LSL (BCI) Act; and
       (b) has elected under that Act to take long service benefits under that Act for a period stated by the employee.
   (2) The employee’s election does not prevent the employee from receiving benefits under this Act.
   (3) However, the employee is not entitled to a benefit under this Act for a period for which the employee has received a benefit under the LSL (BCI) Act.
   (4) In this section:

2E Benefits under this Act and LSL (CCI) Act
   (1) This section applies to an employee who—
       (a) was registered under the LSL (CCI) Act; and
       (b) has elected under that Act to take long service benefits under that Act for a period stated by the employee.
   (2) The employee’s election does not prevent the employee from receiving benefits under this Act.
(3) However, the employee is not entitled to a benefit under this Act for a period for which the employee has received a benefit under the LSL (CCI) Act.

(4) In this section:

\textit{LSL (CCI) Act} means the \textit{Long Service Leave (Contract Cleaning Industry) Act 1999}.

2EA \textbf{Benefits under this Act and LSL (PS) Act}

(1) This section applies to an employee who—

(a) is registered under the LSL (PS) Act; and

(b) has elected under that Act to take long service leave benefits under that Act for a period stated by the employee.

(2) The employee’s election does not prevent the employee from receiving benefits under this Act.

(3) However, the employee is not entitled to a benefit under this Act for a period for which the employee received a benefit under the LSL (PS) Act.

(4) In this section:

\textit{LSL (PS) Act} means the \textit{Long Service Leave (Portable Schemes) Act 2009}.

2F \textbf{Working out remuneration—employee also receives commission}

(1) To work out the ordinary remuneration of an employee who, during a year, is paid completely by commission, or partly by salary or wages and partly by commission—

(a) the employee is taken to be paid completely by salary or wages throughout the year; and
(b) the amount payable for salary or wages to the employee in relation to a week in the year is taken to be the following:

\text{total payable} = \frac{52}{115x693}

(2) In this section:

total payable, for a year, means the total amount payable to the employee for the year as commission, salary or wages.

2G Periods of service

(1) In this Act:

period of service, as an employee, means a period of continuous service as the employee of a particular employer.

(2) However, in working out an employee’s period of service, the following interruptions of the period of service do not break the continuity of service:

(a) an interruption caused by an industrial dispute if the employee returns to the service of the employer in accordance with the terms of settlement of the dispute;

(b) a period when an employee is stood down by his or her employer because of slackness of trade if the employee is re-employed by the employer within 6 months after the day the employee is stood down;

(c) a period, other than a period mentioned in the dictionary, definition of continuous service, paragraph (a) or (b), when the employee is absent with the employer’s leave;
(d) a period when the employee is absent because of injury arising out of or in the course of the employment;

(e) any other interruption, including ending of service by the employer (other than with the intention of avoiding the granting of long service leave), if the employee returns to the employer’s service within 2 months after the day the service is interrupted;

(f) service by the employee as a member of the Defence Force, other than as a member rendering continuous full-time service;

(g) a period of service when the employee is temporarily outside the ACT if the service would be continuous service if the employee were inside the ACT.

(3) Also, an interruption of an employee’s service of longer than 2 months does not break the continuity of service if the interruption is caused by the seasonal nature of the work.

(4) For subsection (2) (f), the service by the employee as a member of the Defence Force is taken to be service with the person by whom the employee was employed immediately before the employee began to serve as a member of the Defence Force.

(5) To remove any doubt, the period of the interruption under subsection (2) or (3) (other than a period mentioned in subsection (2) (f) or (g)) must not be taken into account in working out the total period of service.

Example
Fiona starts work in the cosmetics department of Desmond James (‘DJ’s’), a department store, on 1 January 1992. She works there until 31 December 1994, when she quits to take up a position with Gray’s Brothers, a competing department store. She doesn’t like the new manager and returns to her old job at DJ’s on 1 February 1995. On 1 June 1995 there is a strike which continues till 30 September 1995, after which Fiona returns to work in accordance with the terms of settlement of the dispute. On 1 August 1999 Fiona injures herself at work and is unable to return to work until 1 December 1999. The cumulative absences of 9 months do not count as service, postponing her entitlement, but do not break continuity of service. Her 10 years long service leave falls due on 1 October 2002.

Note An example is part of the Act, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

3 Entitlement to long service leave

(1) An employee who has completed 7 years service with a single employer is entitled to long service leave for the period of the service.

(2) An employee is entitled to long service leave for each year of service completed by the employee after the end of the 7th year of service.

(3) An employee’s entitlement to long service leave for a period of service arises at the end of the period.

4 Amount of long service leave

An employee accrues long service leave at the rate of 1/5 of a month’s leave for each year of service.

6 Grant of leave

(1) An employer commits an offence if—

(a) an employee of the employer becomes entitled to 4 weeks or more of long service leave; and

(b) the employer does not grant the leave—

(i) as soon as practicable, having regard to the needs of the employer’s business, after the employee becomes entitled to the leave; or
(ii) if the employer and employee agree—at another time or times.

Maximum penalty: 50 penalty units.

(2) An employer commits an offence if the employer does not, at least 60 days before the date from which long service leave is to be taken, give the employee written notice of the date.

Maximum penalty: 50 penalty units.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply if the employee agrees otherwise.

(4) An offence against this section is a strict liability offence.

7 Payment for leave

(1) Payment for long service leave shall be made at the rate of an amount equivalent to the ordinary remuneration the employee would have received in respect of the period of leave if he or she had not taken the leave.

(2) In the case of an employee who is a part-time employee or casual employee, the ordinary remuneration shall be calculated by multiplying the average number of hours worked each week by the employee during the period of 12 months immediately preceding the day on which the employee became entitled to the leave by the ordinary remuneration of the employee on that day.

(3) If, within the period of 2 years immediately before the date on which an employee becomes entitled to long service leave in respect of a period of service, the employee ceases to be employed full time and is employed part time or as a casual employee, the ordinary remuneration for long service leave shall be calculated by dividing by 5 the total amount of salary or wages paid to the employee in the period of 5 years ending on his or her becoming so entitled.
8 Manner of payment for leave

(1) An employer commits an offence if the employer does not pay an employee for long service leave—

(a) in advance for the whole period of the long service leave; or

(b) at the same times as the employer would have paid the employee if the employee had not taken the leave and, if the employee asks for it, by cheque posted to an address the employee nominates; or

(c) if the employer and the employee agree—in another way.

Maximum penalty: 50 penalty units.

(2) An offence against this section is a strict liability offence.

(3) If, after payment in respect of long service leave is made in accordance with subsection (1), the amount of ordinary remuneration payable under an award or agreement to the employee increases, payment of that increase shall—

(a) if payment was made under subsection (1) (a)—be made to the employee as soon as practicable on completion of that leave; or

(b) if payment was made under subsection (1) (b)—be made to the employee in accordance with that paragraph; or

(c) if payment was made under subsection (1) (c)—be made in such manner as is agreed by the employer and the employee, or in the absence of such agreement, as soon as practicable on completion of that leave.

(4) Payment in lieu of long service leave shall be made—

(a) to the employee as soon as practicable after termination of his or her employment; or
(b) in the case of a deceased employee, to his or her legal personal representative as soon as practicable after the death of the employee but in any case not later than 12 months after his or her death.

9 Public holidays not to count as leave

(1) This section applies if a public holiday or an award holiday falls during a period of long service leave taken by an employee.

(2) The period of long service leave is increased by 1 day for each such holiday.

(3) In this section:

award holiday means a day that is, under an award or agreement, a holiday for people employed in an industry.

10 Service not affected by transmission of business

Where, before or after the date of commencement of this Act, a business is transmitted from 1 employer to another and a person who was, immediately before the transmission, an employee of the first employer becomes, immediately after the transmission, an employee of the second employer—

(a) the period of service of the employee shall be deemed not to have been interrupted; and

(b) the period of service of the employee with the first employer shall be deemed to be service with the second employer.
10A Continuity of service in certain cases

(1) Where—

(a) a contract for the supply of services by 1 party to the contract (the first contractor) on behalf of the other party to the contract (the principal) has been discharged; and

(b) the principal enters into another contract with a person other than the first contractor for the supply of those services on its behalf by that other person (the second contractor); and

(c) that other contract imposes an obligation on the second contractor to the effect that, so far as practicable, the second contractor shall employ, in supplying those services, persons whose employment with the first contractor ceased because of the discharge of the firstmentioned contract; and

(d) under that obligation the second contractor employs such a former employee of the first contractor; and this section applies to that former employee.

(2) Where this section applies to a person, the aggregate of the periods of service by the person for the first contractor and the second contractor shall, for this Act, be taken to be 1 period of service for the second contractor.

11 Service with associated companies

Where, over a continuous period, an employee has been employed by 2 or more companies each of which is an associated company, the employee is entitled to long service leave as if he or she had, during the whole of the period of service, been employed by the company by which he or she is employed at the date at which his or her long service leave accrues.
11A Pay in lieu of long service leave

(1) For this section, the long service leave credit of a person is the amount of long service leave that has accrued to the person less the amount of long service leave granted to the person.

(2) Where—
   (a) a person’s employment ceases for any reason; and
   (b) the person had a long service leave credit immediately before the employment ceased;

the employer shall pay the amount ascertained in accordance with subsection (3)—
   (c) to the person; or
   (d) if the person is dead—to the legal personal representative of the deceased person.

(3) The amount payable is an amount that is equal to the amount of ordinary remuneration that, but for the cessation of employment, would have been payable by the employer under section 7 to the person for a period of service equal to the period of the person’s long service leave credit immediately before the cessation of employment.

11C Pro rata long service leave entitlement

(1) Where—
   (a) a person’s employment is terminated—
      (i) by the person because of illness or incapacity or a domestic or other pressing necessity of such a nature to justify the termination; or
      (ii) by the person upon or after attaining the minimum retiring age; or
      (iii) by the death of the person; or
(iv) by the employer for a reason other than the person’s serious and wilful misconduct; and

(b) the person had completed a period of service in that employment of at least 5 years but less than 7 years;

the employer shall pay the amount ascertained in accordance with subsection (2)—

(c) to the person; or

(d) if the person is dead—to the legal personal representative of the deceased person.

(2) The amount payable is an amount that is equal to the amount of ordinary remuneration that, but for the cessation of employment, would have been payable by the employer to the person for a period of service equal to the period that bears to 2 months the same proportion as the number of years or months of service completed by the person bears to 10 years.

(3) In this section:

minimum retiring age, in relation to a person, means—

(a) if a minimum retiring age applies to the person under an award or agreement—the age fixed by the award or agreement; and

(b) in any other case—the age of 65 years.

11D Calculation of ordinary remuneration

For section 11A, 11B or 11C, the amount of ordinary remuneration that, but for the cessation of employment by a person, would have been payable by the employer to the person for a period of service referred to in that section shall be calculated—

(a) at the rate at which ordinary remuneration was payable to the person immediately before the cessation of employment; and
(b) if the person was a part-time employee or casual employee immediately before the cessation of employment—on the basis that during that period of service the person would have been employed for the number of hours per week that is equal to the average number of hours per week for which the employee was employed during the period of 12 months immediately before the cessation of employment.

12 Long service leave records

(1) An employer commits an offence if the employer does not, for each employee, keep a record of—

(a) the name, occupation and classification of the employee; and

(b) whether the employee is full-time, part-time or casual; and

(c) the employee’s ordinary remuneration, including the base rate of pay and any loading payable to the employee, and the purpose of the loading; and

(d) the number of hours the employee works each week; and

(e) the date when the employee starts as an employee; and

(f) any annual leave the employee takes; and

(g) the employee’s entitlement to long service leave; and

(h) long service leave granted, or payment instead of leave made, to the employee; and

(i) if the person ceases to be employed by the employer—the date when, and reason, the employee ceases to be employed; and

(j) the employee’s date of birth; and

(k) if overtime may be paid to the employee under an award or agreement—

   (i) the number of hours the employee works each day; and
(ii) when the employee starts and stops work; and

(l) the name of each award or agreement under which the employee has entitlements.

Maximum penalty: 20 penalty units.

(2) An employer must keep a record made under subsection (l) for an employee—

(a) if the employee’s service ends on the employee’s death—for 7 years after the day all amounts owing to the employee’s legal personal representative are paid; and

(b) in any other case—for 7 years after the day the employee’s service ends.

Maximum penalty: 20 penalty units.

(3) An employer commits an offence if—

(a) an authorised officer asks to inspect a record kept for this section; and

(b) the employer does not make the record available for inspection by the authorised officer at the employer’s usual place of business during hours when the employer’s business is normally conducted at the place.

Maximum penalty: 50 penalty units.

(4) An offence against this section is a strict liability offence.

3 Legislation history

This Act was originally a Commonwealth ordinance—the Long Service Leave Ordinance 1976 A1976-27 (Cwlth).

The Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Act 1988 (Cwlth), s 34 (4) converted most former Commonwealth ordinances in force in the ACT into ACT enactments. This allowed the ACT Legislative Assembly to amend and repeal the laws. This Act was converted into an ACT enactment on 11 May 1989 (self-government day).

As with most ordinances in force in the ACT, the name was changed from Ordinance to Act by the Self-Government (Citation of Laws) Act 1989 A1989-21, s 5 on 11 May 1989 (self-government day).

Before 11 May 1989, ordinances commenced on their notification day unless otherwise stated (see Seat of Government (Administration) Act 1910 (Cwlth), s 12).
