About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Administration and Probate Act 1929 (including any amendment made under the Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 (Editorial changes)) as in force on 10 September 2002. It also includes any amendment, repeal or expiry affecting the republished law to 10 September 2002.

The legislation history and amendment history of the republished law are set out in endnotes 3 and 4.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 authorises the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation Act 2001, s 115 and s 117). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

This republication does not include amendments made under part 11.3 (see endnote 1).

Uncommenced provisions and amendments

If a provision of the republished law has not commenced or is affected by an uncommenced amendment, the symbol U appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the uncommenced provision or amendment appears only in the last endnote.

Modifications

If a provision of the republished law is affected by a current modification, the symbol M appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the modifying provision appears in the endnotes. For the legal status of modifications, see Legislation Act 2001, section 95.

Penalties

The value of a penalty unit for an offence against this republished law at the republication date is—

- (a) if the person charged is an individual—$100; or
- (b) if the person charged is a corporation—$500.

On an application made under this Act—

- (a) for the grant of probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of a deceased person; or

9 Probate or administration may be granted

- (1) The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to grant probate of the will or administration of the estate of any deceased person leaving property, whether real or personal, within the ACT.
- (2) The Supreme Court shall have jurisdiction to grant probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of a deceased person who did not leave property, whether real or personal, within the ACT, if the court is satisfied that the grant of probate or administration is necessary.

9A Evidence of death

- (1) Probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of a person may be granted by the Supreme Court if it is satisfied, by direct evidence or by evidence supporting a presumption of death, that the person is, or may be presumed to be, dead.
- (2) A grant of probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of a person made on direct evidence of the death of the person or on evidence supporting a presumption of the death of the person is valid notwithstanding that the person is, after the day the grant was made, found to have been alive on that day.

9B Grant on presumption of death

 - (a) the grant shall be expressed to be made on presumption of the death of the person; and
 - (b) the estate of the person shall not be distributed without the leave of the court; and
 - (c) the court may, in the probate or administration or by an order made at any time, give leave to distribute the estate; and

 - (i) if the person has received property other than money under the order—restore the property or, at his or her option, pay an amount equal to the value of the property at the time he or she received the property to the person whose death was presumed or, if that person has subsequently died, to the administrator of the estate of that person; or

- (ii) if the person has received money under the order—pay an amount equal to the amount of the money received under the order to the person whose death was presumed or, if that person has subsequently died, to the administrator of the estate of that person; and
 - (e) the court may direct the executor or the administrator to give, before the estate is distributed, the notices (including a notice specifying a date before which a caveat against the distribution of the estate may be lodged with the registrar) that the court considers appropriate.
- (2) If an executor or administrator of an estate has given the notices directed by the Supreme Court under subsection (1) (e), the executor or administrator—

- (5) An order under subsection (4) may authorise the distribution of the estate subject to the conditions the Supreme Court considers appropriate.

10 Issue of probate by registrar

- (1) Subject to this section, probate or administration may, on application to the registrar, supported by affidavits on which for the time being the Supreme Court would, in the opinion of the registrar, grant the probate or administration, be issued by the registrar as of course in the name and under the seal of the court, and every such probate or administration shall be deemed to have been granted by the court.
- (2) The registrar shall not, without an order of the Supreme Court, issue probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of a deceased person if—
 - (a) a caveat has been lodged; or
 - (b) it appears to the registrar to be doubtful whether the probate or administration should be granted.
- (3) Whenever the Supreme Court makes an order for the grant of probate or administration, the probate or administration shall be issued by the registrar in the name and under the seal of the court.

10A Sealing of probate and letters of administration

The seal of the Supreme Court shall not be attached to any probate or letters of administration—

- (a) until all probate, stamp and other duties (if any), but not including estate duty, payable under any law in force in the ACT have been paid; and

- (b) except on an affidavit that notice of the intention to apply in that behalf has been published once in a newspaper published and circulating in the ACT 14 days before the making of the affidavit and that no caveat has been lodged.

10B Grant to single executor reserving leave to others to apply

The Supreme Court may, if it considers appropriate, grant probate to 1 or more of the executors named in a will reserving leave to the executor who has not renounced, or the executors who have not renounced, to come in and apply for a grant of probate at a future time.

10C Grant of probate to public trustee

If a deceased person has named, as an executor of his or her will—

- (a) the public trustee for the Australian Capital Territory; or
- (b) the public trustee of a State; or
- (c) the public trustee for the Northern Territory;

the Supreme Court may grant probate of the will to that public trustee.

11 Practice about granting administration of real and personal estate

Subject to this Act and the rules, the practice and procedure in relation to the granting of administration of the personal estate of an intestate shall be applicable so far as may be, to administration of real estate, and administration of both real and personal estate may be granted in and by the same letters.

- (2) The Supreme Court shall only grant administration of an intestate estate to a person who is at least 18 years old.
- (3) The Supreme Court shall not grant administration of an intestate estate to a person referred to in subsection (1) (e) if there is any other person to whom administration may be granted under this section:
 - (a) who is fit to be trusted, in the opinion of the court; and
 - (b) who appears and prays for administration after being duly cited.
- (4) In this section:
spouse, in relation to an intestate—see section 44.

13 Rights and duties of administrator

A person to whom administration of the estate of a deceased person is granted—

- (a) has, subject to any limitations in the grant, the same rights and liabilities as the person would have if the person were the executor of the deceased; and

- (b) is accountable in the same way as the person would be accountable if the person were the executor of the deceased person.

Note This section was relocated from the Imperial Acts (Substituted Provisions) Act 1986, sch 2, pt 4 (for the effect of a relocation, see Legislation Act 2001, s 96). The 1986 Act substituted provisions for certain UK Acts that applied (or may have applied) in the ACT and repealed those Acts. The provisions of sch 2, pt 4 were substituted for 31 Edw. 3, St. 1, c 11 (1357) and 1 Jas. 2 c 17, s 6 (1685). The 1986 Act, s 4 (1) provided, in effect, that the rules of law about the interpretation of consolidating Acts apply to the interpretation of the provisions of a law set out in sch 2. These rules of law continue to apply to this section (see Legislation Act 2001, s 96 (3)).

14 Administration bond to be given

- (1) Subject to this section, a person to whom a grant of administration is made shall, before the issue of the administration, enter into, and file with the registrar, a bond with an insurance company as a surety for duly collecting, getting in and administering the real and personal estate of the deceased person.
- (2) The bond shall acknowledge that the person to whom the grant is made and the surety are bound to the registrar in a sum to be specified in the bond, being a sum equal to the value of the estate of the deceased person or such lesser sum as the Supreme Court, or if the value of the estate of the deceased person does not exceed $2 000, as the registrar, directs.
- (3) If all or any part of the estate of the deceased person passes to—
 - (a) the person to whom administration is granted; or
 - (b) beneficiaries who are sui juris and consent in writing to the bond being dispensed with;

the registrar may, if he or she considers appropriate, dispense with the requirement of the bond in relation to the estate or that part of the estate, as the case requires.

- (4) Subsection (1) does not apply in relation to a grant of administration of the estate of a deceased person granted to—
- (a) the public trustee; or
 - (b) a person on behalf of the Crown; or
 - (c) a trustee company if the company is exempted by law from the obligation of having to enter into and file the bond referred to in that subsection; or
 - (d) a public trustee of a State or Territory of the Commonwealth.
- (5) In this section, a reference to an insurance company is a reference to a company that is carrying on insurance business within the meaning of the Insurance (Deposits) Act 1932 (Cwlth) and maintains a deposit with the Commonwealth Treasurer in accordance with that Act.

17 Order may be made to assign bond

The Supreme Court may, on being satisfied that the conditions of any administration bond have been broken, order the registrar to assign the bond to some person to be named in the order, and that person (or his or her executor or administrator) shall be entitled to sue on the bond in his or her own name as if it had been originally given to him or her, and shall be entitled to recover as trustee for all persons interested the full amount recoverable in relation to any breach of the conditions of the bond.

18 Order to assign bond in creditor's administration

- (1) On being satisfied that there has been negligence or maladministration of the estate of which any person has obtained administration in the capacity of creditor, or that the condition of any administration bond executed by any person who has obtained administration in that capacity has been broken in any substantial particular, the Supreme Court may, if it considers appropriate, order the registrar to assign the administration bond to the public trustee or to some person to be named in the order.

- (2) The public trustee or the person named in the order, is entitled to sue on the bond as if it had been originally given to him or her, and shall be entitled to recover, as trustee for all persons interested, the full amount recoverable in relation to any breach of the condition of the bond.
- (3) The Supreme Court may, if it considers appropriate, on making the order, remove the creditor from the position of administrator, and may grant a rule to the public trustee, or some persons to be named in the order, to administer the estate.

18A Probate or administration may be revoked or further bond required

- (1) At any time after probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of a deceased person has been granted, the Supreme Court may, on the motion of a person who is interested in the estate, revoke the probate or administration.
- (2) At any time after administration of the estate of a deceased person has been granted, the Supreme Court may, on the motion of a person who is interested in the estate, order the administrator of the estate to execute a bond, or an additional bond, of the amount, and within the time and with the sureties, that the court considers appropriate.
- (3) If an administrator fails to comply with the terms of an order made under subsection (2), the Supreme Court may remove the administrator and appoint another person to be an administrator of the estate in his or her place.
- (4) If the Supreme Court has removed an administrator of an estate under subsection (3) and appointed another person to be an administrator of the estate in his or her place, any contract made before the date the administrator was so removed, in relation to which the administrator so removed was, in his or her capacity of administrator of the estate, a party shall, on and after that date, be read and construed, and may be enforced, as if references in the contract to the administrator so removed were references to the administrator so appointed in his or her place.

19 Application by surety for relief

If, on motion by a surety to an administration bond, it appears to the Supreme Court that—

- (a) the estate is being wasted, or is in danger of being wasted; or
- (b) the surety is being in any way prejudiced, or in danger of being prejudiced, by the act or default of the person administering the estate;

the court may grant the relief it considers appropriate.

20 Renunciation or non-appearance by executor

If—

- (a) any person renounces probate of the will of which he or she is appointed an executor; or
- (b) an executor appointed in a will survives the testator but dies without having taken probate; or
- (c) an executor named in a will is personally cited to take probate and does not appear to the citation;

the right of that person in relation to the executorship shall wholly cease, and the representation to the testator and the administration of the estate shall, without any further renunciation, go, devolve, and be committed in like way as if that person had not been appointed executor.

20A Renunciation etc by person appointed both executor and trustee of will

- (1) If a person who is appointed by will both executor and trustee renounces probate or after being duly cited fails to apply for probate, the renunciation or failure shall be deemed to be a disclaimer of the trust contained in the will.
- (2) If there is any renunciation or failure or the person dies before probate is granted or instead of applying for probate authorises a trustee company to apply for administration with the will annexed and if administration with the will annexed is granted to a trustee company, the trustee company shall because of the grant and without any further appointment be deemed to be appointed trustee of the will in the place of the person appointed.

26 Issue of special letters of administration

If, at the end of 6 months from the death of any person, the executor to whom probate has been granted or the administrator is then residing out of the jurisdiction, the Supreme Court may, on the application of any creditor, legatee, or next of kin, grant to the creditor, legatee or next of kin so applying special letters of administration of the estate of the deceased person, nevertheless to cease on an order being made for the rescission of the grant of the special letters of administration as mentioned in section 29.

30 Liability of executor or administrator neglecting to apply for rescission of special administration

If the executor or administrator neglects to apply for an order for the rescission of the special administration, he or she shall, notwithstanding that the special administration remains unrescinded, be liable to answer and make good all claims and demands against the estate of the deceased to the extent of the assets that have come to his or her hands or that might have come to his or her hands apart from his or her wilful neglect, or default, including the neglect mentioned in this section.

31 Revocation of grants not to prejudice actions or suits

If, while any legal proceeding is pending in any court by or against any executor or administrator lawfully acting as such, the grant of probate or administration is revoked or rescinded, that court may order that the proceeding be continued by or against the new personal representative in like way, as if the proceeding had been originally begun by or against the new representative, but subject to the conditions and variations (if any) as that court directs.

 - (a) the executor or administrator to whom the grant was made shall account to the Supreme Court for the property that he or she has received, or that has vested in him or her, as the executor or administrator, and the court may make the orders it considers appropriate in relation to the disposal by the executor or administrator of so much of that property as remains in his or her hands; and
 - (b) the executor or administrator is not liable in relation to property that he or she has disposed of under the grant in good faith before the revocation of the grant if he or she complied with section 9B in relation to the disposing of that property; and
 - (c) the revocation of the grant does not, of its own force, invalidate a disposal of property made by, or to, the executor or administrator before the revocation of the grant; and
 - (d) a person entitled to any property that has been distributed by the executor or administrator to whom the grant was made may apply to the court for an order under subsection (2); and
 - (e) an action does not lie against the registrar-general for loss suffered by any person in consequence of the registration of a dealing with land under the Land Titles Act 1925, being a dealing lawfully made by the executor or administrator before the revocation of the grant; and
 - (f) the court may make the vesting orders it considers appropriate.

- (2) If the Supreme Court, on application made under subsection (1) (d) in relation to property, is satisfied that the applicant is the person entitled to the property and that the respondent to the application is the appropriate person in relation to the property, the court may make an order directing the respondent—
- (a) if the respondent is in possession of the property—to return the property to the applicant or pay to the applicant the sum the court considers reasonable in the circumstances; or

- (1) Any person may lodge with the registrar a caveat against any application for representation at any time previous to the representation being granted.
- (2) The caveat shall include the name of the person lodging it, and an address in the ACT for the service of notices.

34 If caveat lodged court may grant order nisi

If a caveat is lodged, the Supreme Court may, on motion on behalf of the person applying for representation supported by affidavits on which, if there had been no caveat, representation would have been granted, make an order nisi for the grant of representation to the person applying, and every such order shall name a time for showing cause against it, and the court may enlarge the order from time to time.

35 Service of order nisi

Every such order nisi and every order enlarging it shall be served on the caveator by delivering a copy of the order at the address mentioned in the caveat.

38 Costs if caveat lodged by public trustee

If a caveat is lodged by the public trustee, the Supreme Court may, if it considers appropriate, order costs to be paid to the public trustee out of the estate, whether the order nisi is discharged or not.

Division 3.3 Effect of grant of representation

38A Estate to vest in public trustee until grant

On the death of a person, the real and personal property of the deceased person vests in the public trustee in the same way, and to the same extent, as the personal estate and effects of a deceased person formerly vested in the Ordinary in England.

- (3) Subsection (2) does not affect—
 - (a) a right or title that accrued before 1 January 1966 under a disposition by an appointee that, apart from that subsection, would be valid; or

Division 4 Position of executor of an executor

Note The provisions of this division were relocated from the Imperial Acts (Substituted Provisions) Act 1986, sch 2, pt 3 (for the effect of a relocation, see Legislation Act 2001, s 96). The 1986 Act substituted provisions for certain UK Acts that applied (or may have applied) in the ACT and repealed those Acts. The provisions of sch 2, pt 3 were substituted for 25 Edw. 3, St. 5, c 5 (1351). The 1986 Act, s 4 (1) provided, in effect, that the rules of law about the interpretation of consolidating Acts apply to the interpretation of the provisions of a law set out in sch 2. These rules of law continue to apply to this division (see Legislation Act 2001, s 96 (3)).

Part 3D

Liability of certain persons in relation to deceased estates

Note The provisions of this part were relocated from the Imperial Acts (Substituted Provisions) Act 1986, sch 2 (for the effect of a relocation, see Legislation Act 2001, s 96). The 1986 Act substituted provisions for certain UK Acts that applied (or may have applied) in the ACT and repealed those Acts. The 1986 Act, s 4 (1) provided, in effect, that the rules of law about the interpretation of consolidating Acts apply to the interpretation of the provisions of a law set out in schedule 2. These rules of law continue to apply to this part (see Legislation Act 2001, s 96 (3)).

If a person (the relevant person) has, as the personal representative of a deceased person or as the executor in his or her own wrong of the will of a deceased person, wasted or converted to his or her own use any part of the estate of the deceased person, then, on the death of the relevant person, the personal representative of the relevant person is, to the extent of the available assets of the relevant person, liable and chargeable in relation to that waste or conversion in the same way as the relevant person would have been if the relevant person has not died.

Note The provisions of this section were substituted for 30 Chas. 2 c 7 (1678) and 4 Will. and Mary c 24, s 12 (1692).

- (3) The registrar may, at any time, refer an application under this section to the Supreme Court and, if an application is so referred, the probate, administration or order to collect and administer an estate to which the application relates shall not be sealed except in accordance with an order of the court.
- (4) If a probate or administration is sealed under subsection (1)—
 - (a) the probate or administration has the same force, effect and operation as if it had been originally granted by the Supreme Court; and
 - (b) the person who made the application under subsection (1) shall perform the same duties and be subject to the same liabilities as if the probate or administration had been originally granted by the court and he or she was the person to whom the probate or administration had been so granted.
- (5) If an order to collect and administer an estate is sealed under subsection (1), the person who made application for the sealing of the order has the same duties and is subject to the same liabilities as if he or she was the public trustee and the order was an order to collect and administer the estate granted to the public trustee under section 88.

82 Seal not to be attached until duty is paid etc

- (2) Subject to subsection (3), the administration shall not be so sealed until such bond has been entered into as would have been required if the administration had been originally granted by the Supreme Court.
- (3) The seal of the Supreme Court shall not be attached to any such probate or administration except on an affidavit that notice of the intention to apply in that behalf has been published once in a newspaper published and circulating in the ACT 14 days before the making of the affidavit, and that no caveat has been lodged in relation to the probate or administration.

83 Inclusion of orders to collect and Scotch confirmation

A reference in this part to probate or administration includes a reference to—

- (a) an order to a curator or other person to collect and administer an estate; and
- (b) a confirmation of the executor or another person granted in a sheriff court in Scotland.

Part 6 Public trustee

87B Estates to the value of $10 000 or less

- (1) If the public trustee is satisfied—
- (a) that the net value of the estate of a deceased person does not exceed $20 000; and
 - (b) that application has not been made for a grant of probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of the deceased person;

the public trustee may administer the estate of the deceased person, and for that purpose may call in the estate of the deceased person, sell and convert into money the part of that estate that does not consist of money, pay any debts and liabilities of or relating to the deceased person, being debts and liabilities of which he or she has notice, and deal with the balance (if any) of that estate as if probate of the will or administration of the estate of the deceased person had been granted to him or her by the Supreme Court.

- (2) If the public trustee administers the estate of a deceased person under subsection (1) and a balance remains after he or she has dealt with the estate in accordance with that subsection, the public trustee shall deal with the balance of the estate in the following way:
- (a) if the public trustee is of the opinion that the person died testate—as if probate of the last will of the person had been granted to him or her by the Supreme Court;
 - (b) in any other case—as if administration of the estate had been granted to him or her by the Supreme Court.
- (3) The public trustee shall not administer an estate under subsection (1) unless notice of intention to do so has been given by advertisement or otherwise, in the way and form the public trustee considers appropriate.

- (4) If the public trustee is in, or comes into, possession of a will of a deceased person whose estate is being administered or has been administered under subsection (1), the public trustee shall deposit the will with the registrar.

87C Election to administer estate

- (1) The public trustee may file in the office of the registrar an election, signed by the public trustee, to administer the estate of a deceased person if—
- (a) the person left property in the ACT; and
 - (b) the gross value of that property does not, in the opinion of the public trustee, exceed $100 000; and
 - (c) probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of the person has not been granted by the Supreme Court to any person; and
 - (d) the public trustee is entitled under section 88 to apply for an order to collect and administer the estate of the person.
- (2) An election under subsection (1) in relation to the estate of a deceased person shall contain—
- (a) particulars of the name of the deceased person; and
 - (b) the particulars of the place of residence, and the occupation, of the deceased person at the time of death that are known to the public trustee; and
 - (c) the particulars of the date of death, and the property forming part of the estate, of the deceased person that are known to the public trustee.
- (3) If, in the opinion of the public trustee, a deceased person died testate, an election shall have the will of the person annexed to it and shall state that the will was, in the opinion of the public trustee, duly executed by the person.

Section 87C

- (4) If the public trustee has filed an election, the estate of the person vests in the public trustee, and the public trustee has the powers and duties that he or she would have had if the Supreme Court had, under section 88, granted to the public trustee an order to collect and administer the estate of the person.
- (5) The public trustee shall publish notice of each election filed under this section in a newspaper published and circulating in the ACT, and publication of a notice accordingly in relation to an estate is conclusive evidence that the public trustee is entitled to administer the estate of the deceased person.
- (6) If, after the public trustee has filed an election—
- (a) if the will of the deceased person was annexed to the election—a later will; or
 - (b) in any other case—a will;

- (7) If the public trustee files a notice under subsection (6), the election shall be deemed to have been revoked and the public trustee ceases to have the powers and duties given by this section in relation to the estate.
- (8) If, after the public trustee has filed an election in relation to the estate of a deceased person, the gross value of the estate is found to exceed $100 000, the public trustee shall, forthwith, file in the office of the registrar a notice, signed by the public trustee, certifying that the value of the estate exceeds that amount.
- (9) If the public trustee files a notice under subsection (8), the election shall be deemed to have been revoked and the public trustee ceases to have the powers and duties given by this section in relation to the estate.

- (10) The filing of a notice under subsection (6) or (8) in relation to the estate of a deceased person does not prevent the public trustee from applying, under section 88, for an order to collect and administer that estate.
- (11) If the public trustee has filed a notice under subsection (6) or (8) in relation to the estate of a deceased person, the provisions of section 32B apply as if the filing of an election under this section was the grant of probate of the will, or administration of the estate, of the deceased person and the filing of the notice was the revocation of that grant.

88 Orders to public trustee to collect and administer

- (1) The Supreme Court may, on the application of the public trustee, grant to the public trustee an order to collect and administer the estate of any deceased person leaving real or personal estate within the jurisdiction in any of the following cases:

- (3) The registrar may, on the application of the public trustee, supported by affidavits on which the Supreme Court would, in the opinion of the registrar, grant to the public trustee an order to collect and administer the estate of a deceased person, grant such an order as of course in the name and under the seal of the court, and the order shall be deemed to have been made by the court.
- (4) In any application under subsection (3) the registrar may make any requirement which the Supreme Court could, under subsection (2), make on an application to the court, and may make a temporary or limited order of the kind referred to in subsection (2).

 - (a) a copy of that will shall be annexed to the order; and
 - (b) the public trustee has, subject to this part, the same rights and duties in relation to the estate of the person as the public trustee would have if administration with the will annexed of the estate of the deceased person had been granted to the public trustee.
- (3) All laws for the time being in force in relation to the administration of the estates of deceased persons shall apply to the administration of estates by the public trustee.

3 Legislation history

3 Legislation history

This Act was originally a Commonwealth ordinance—the Administration and Probate Ordinance 1929 No 18 (Cwlth).

The Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Act 1988 (Cwlth), s 34 (4) converted most former Commonwealth ordinances in force in the ACT into ACT enactments. This allowed the ACT Legislative Assembly to amend and repeal the laws. This Act was converted into an ACT enactment on 1 July 1992 under the Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Act 1988 (Cwlth), s 34 (7).

As with most ordinances in force in the ACT, the name was changed from Ordinance to Act by the Self-Government (Citation of Laws) Act 1989 No 21, s 5 on its conversion to an ACT enactment on 1 July 1992.

Before 11 May 1989, ordinances commenced on their notification day unless otherwise stated (see Seat of Government (Administration) Act 1910 (Cwlth), s 12).

After 11 May 1989 and before 10 November 1999, Acts commenced on their notification day unless otherwise stated (see Australian Capital Territory (Self-Government) Act 1988 (Cwlth) s 25).
