About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Workers' Compensation Act 1951 effective from 10 November 1999 to 22 December 1999.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation (Republication) Act 1996, part 3, division 2 authorised the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation (Republication) Act 1996, s 14 and s 16). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

(4) Compensation shall not be payable where the injury to, or death of, a worker is caused by an intentionally self-inflicted injury.

(5) An amount of compensation payable under a provision of this Act in respect of an injury is, unless the contrary intention appears, in addition to any amounts of compensation paid or payable under any other provision of this Act in respect of that injury.

7A. Compensation limited to Territory workers

(3) If a worker usually carries out the work of his or her employment in a particular Territory or State ("the home Territory or State"), but pursuant to a defined temporary arrangement carries out that work elsewhere (whether within or outside Australia), the worker is nevertheless to be regarded as a worker of the home Territory or State while carrying out the work elsewhere.

(4) A worker who is not otherwise a worker of this Territory is to be taken to be a worker of this Territory if the worker—

- (a) receives an injury in this Territory;
- (b) is not a worker of any other Territory or any State; and

(c) is not entitled to compensation in respect of the injury under the enacted law of a place outside Australia.

(5) In subsection (3)—

“defined temporary arrangement”, in relation to the employment of a worker, means an arrangement that is part of that employment for the worker to carry out the work of the employment for a period that may reasonably be thought likely to be of less than 6 months' duration.

Subject to this Act, compensation is payable in respect of an injury to a worker of this Territory suffered while the worker was outside Australia.

in relation to a previous injury in respect of which compensation is payable;

the worker's employer is liable to pay compensation as if the first-mentioned injury were an injury arising out of or in the course of that employment.

(2) In this section—

“travelling” means travelling, whether within or outside the Territory, by the shortest convenient route for the journey but does not include travelling during or after any substantial interruption of the journey or any substantial deviation from the route made for a reason unconnected with the worker's employment or obtaining the certificate, treatment or compensation, as the case may be, unless, in the circumstances of any particular case, the nature, extent, degree and content of the risk of injury was not materially changed or increased by reason only of any such interruption or deviation.

9. Compensation for death or incapacity through disease

(1) Where—

- (a) a worker contracts a disease or suffers an aggravation, acceleration or recurrence of a disease; and
- (b) any employment of the worker by his or her employer was a contributing factor to the contraction of the disease or the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence, as the case may be, whether or not the disease was contracted or the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence was suffered in the course of that employment;

subsections (2) to (5) (inclusive) have effect.

(2) If—

- (a) the death of the worker; or
- (b) the total or partial incapacity for work of the worker, results from the disease, or the worker obtained medical treatment in relation to the disease, then, for the purposes of this Act, unless the contrary intention appears—

- (c) the contraction of the disease, or the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be a personal injury to the worker arising out of the employment of the worker by his or her employer; and

- (d) the date of the death, the date of the commencement of the incapacity or the date on which the medical treatment was first obtained, whichever is the earlier, shall be deemed to be the date of the injury.
- (3) Where a liability of an employer in respect of a disease of a worker arises by virtue of this section, any other employer who, prior to that liability so arising, employed the worker in any employment that caused or contributed to the disease shall, subject to subsection (4), be liable to pay to the employer from whom compensation is recoverable such contribution as is, in default of agreement, settled by arbitration.
- (4) An employer shall not be liable under subsection (2) or (3) in respect of a disease if the worker, at the time of entering the employment of that employer, made a wilful and false representation that the worker did not suffer, or had not previously suffered, from that disease.
- (5) A claimant for compensation under this section in respect of a worker's disease shall, if so required, furnish the employer who is liable to pay compensation to the claimant with such information as to the names and addresses of the worker's other employers as the claimant possesses.

9AA. Hearing loss—application of section 9

Section 9 applies in relation to a loss, or a further loss, of hearing as if—

- ‘the relevant period’, in relation to the contraction of a disease, or the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence, as the case may be, that is deemed to be a personal injury under paragraph 9 (2) (c) (in this subsection called ‘the relevant injury’), means—
- (a) where, at the date of the relevant injury, the worker was employed by the employer referred to in paragraph 9 (2) (c)—

Workers' Compensation Act 1951

- (i) if the worker had not recovered compensation in respect of a prior injury (being a loss, or a further loss, of hearing) that occurred within the period of 5 years immediately preceding the date of the relevant injury—that period; or
 - (ii) if the worker had recovered compensation in respect of a prior injury (being a loss, or a further loss, of hearing) that occurred within the period of 5 years immediately preceding the date of the relevant injury—the period commencing on the day after the date on which the employer from whom that compensation was recovered or last recovered became liable to pay that compensation and ending on the date of the relevant injury; or
- (b) where, at the date of the relevant injury, the worker was not employed by the employer referred to in paragraph 9 (2) (c) (in this paragraph called ‘the recent employer’)—
- (i) if the worker had not recovered compensation in respect of a prior injury (being a loss, or a further loss, of hearing) that occurred within the period of 5 years immediately preceding the last day on which the worker was employed by the recent employer—that period; or
 - (ii) if the worker had recovered compensation in respect of a prior injury (being a loss, or a further loss, of hearing) that occurred within the period of 5 years immediately preceding the last day on which the worker was employed by the recent employer—the period commencing on the day after the date on which the employer from whom that compensation was recovered or last recovered became liable to pay that compensation and ending on the last day on which the worker was employed by the recent employer.

(2) Any employment in which a worker who has suffered an aggravation, acceleration or recurrence of a disease was engaged at any time before symptoms of the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence first became apparent shall, unless the contrary is established be taken for the purposes of this Act to have been a contributing factor to the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence if the incidence of the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence of the disease among persons suffering from the disease who have engaged in that kind of employment is significantly greater than the incidence of the aggravation, acceleration or recurrence of the disease among persons suffering from the disease who have engaged in employment generally in the place where the worker was ordinarily employed.

(3) The death of a worker shall be taken for the purposes of this Act, to have been contributed to by a disease if, but for that disease, the death of the worker would have occurred at a significantly later time.

- (5) The want of notice or any defect or inaccuracy in the notice shall not be a bar to the maintenance of the proceedings if it is found in the proceedings that the employer's defence is not, or would not be, if a notice or an amended notice were then given and the hearing postponed, prejudiced by the want, defect or inaccuracy, or that the want, defect or inaccuracy was occasioned by mistake or other reasonable cause.

PART IV—COMPENSATION AND COMMON LAW REMEDIES

21A. Interpretation

(1) In this Part—

“compensation” includes a payment under section 11;

“damages” includes an amount paid under a compromise or settlement of a claim for damages, whether legal proceedings had been instituted or not, but does not include an amount paid for costs incurred in connection with proceedings in a court;

“injury”, in relation to a worker, includes damage to the worker’s contact lenses, crutches, prosthesis, spectacles or other artificial aid.

(2) Where damages are recovered by a person on another person’s behalf, a reference in this Part to a person who recovers damages shall be read as a reference to the person on whose behalf damages are recovered.

(3) Where compensation is paid or payable to a person for the benefit of another person, a reference in this Part to a person to whom compensation is paid or payable, as the case may be, shall be read as a reference to the person for whose benefit the compensation is paid or payable.

21B. Payments by nominal insurer

(1) Where the nominal insurer pays compensation in respect of an injury to a worker, this Part applies as if a reference to the worker’s employer were a reference to the nominal insurer.

(2) Where the nominal insurer and an employer both pay compensation in respect of an injury suffered by a worker, the rights of the nominal insurer under this Part in relation to that payment have priority over the rights of the employer.

22. Remedies both against the employer and a stranger

(1) If an injury in respect of which compensation is payable under this Act is caused under circumstances which appear to create a legal liability in some person other than the employer to pay damages in respect of the injury—

- (a) the worker may take proceedings against that person to recover damages and may also make a claim against the employer under this Act;
- (b) where the worker receives both amounts under this Act and damages from that other person, he or she shall repay to the employer so much of those amounts as does not exceed the amount of the damages received from that person;

- (c) upon notice to that person, the employer shall have a first charge upon moneys payable by that person to the worker to the extent of any amounts which the employer has paid to the worker under this Act;
- (d) where the worker has received amounts under this Act, but no damages or less than the full amount of the damages to which he or she is entitled, the person liable to pay the damages shall indemnify the employer against so much of the amounts paid to the worker as does not exceed the damages for which that person is liable; and
- (e) payment of money by that person to the employer under either of the last two preceding paragraphs shall, to the extent of the amount paid, be a satisfaction of the liability of that person to the worker.

23. Liability arising independently of this Act

(1) Compensation is not payable under this Act in respect of an injury to a worker to the extent to which—

- (a) workers' compensation for that injury has been paid under the law of a place outside the Territory; or
- (b) a judgment or agreement for damages has been obtained in respect of the injury from the worker's employer independently of this Act.

(2) If a worker or a dependant of a worker obtains compensation under this Act in respect of an injury to the worker, and, subsequently in respect of the injury, the person to whom that compensation was paid obtains workers' compensation under a law of a place outside the Territory, or obtains from the worker's employer a judgment or agreement for damages independently of this Act, the employer is entitled to recover from that person an amount equal to the least of the following amounts:

- (a) the amount of the compensation obtained under this Act;
- (b) if the person has obtained workers' compensation under a law of a place outside the Territory in respect of the injury—the amount of the compensation, unless paragraph (d) applies;
- (c) if the person has obtained a judgment or agreement for damages independently of this Act in respect of the injury—the amount of the judgment or agreement, unless paragraph (d) applies;
- (d) if the person has obtained both workers' compensation under a law of a place outside the Territory, and a judgment or agreement for damages independently of this Act, in respect of the injury—the net amount to which the person is entitled under that law in respect of the compensation and the damages.

23A. Dependants recovering damages and not claiming compensation

- (c) no claim for compensation in respect of the injury has been made by or on behalf of the non-claiming dependant.

(2) Where there is only 1 non-claiming dependant, he or she is liable to pay to the employer—

- (a) if the amount of the damages recovered by the non-claiming dependant is less than the total amount of compensation paid to the dependants of the worker in respect of the worker’s injury—the amount of the damages; or
- (b) in any other case—the amount of the compensation.

(3) Where there is more than 1 non-claiming dependant, each such dependant is liable to pay to the employer—

- (a) an amount calculated in accordance with the formula—

$$C \times \frac{D}{TD}$$

where—

- C is the total amount of the compensation paid in respect of the worker’s injury to dependants of the worker;
 - D is the amount of damages recovered by the non-claiming dependant in respect of the injury to the worker; and
 - TD is the total of the amounts of damages recovered by all the non-claiming dependants; or
- (b) if the amount of the damages recovered by the non-claiming dependant is less than the amount calculated in accordance with the formula in paragraph (a)—the amount of the damages.

(4) For the purposes of subsections (2) and (3), the amount of the compensation paid by the employer in respect of the worker's injury does not include—

- (a) any amount paid to a dependant of the worker who is not entitled to recover damages in respect of the worker's injury; or
- (b) any amount paid for the benefit of a dependent child of the worker under subparagraph 1 (a) (i) of Schedule 1.

- (b) investments acquired out of such an amount;

the Court or that person shall—

- (c) deduct from that amount; or
- (d) realise any or all of the investments and deduct from the proceeds of the realisation;

an amount not exceeding the amount that the worker or dependant is so liable to pay the employer, and shall pay the amount deducted to the employer.

(2) The payment of an amount to an employer under subsection (1) shall be a discharge of the liability—

- (b) of the Court or other person to the worker or dependant; to the extent of the amount paid.

 - (ii) subject to clause 2A regard shall be had to any payment, allowance or benefit which the worker receives from his or her employer during the period of the worker's incapacity and the amount of the weekly payment otherwise payable under paragraph 1 (b) or (c) shall be reduced to such amount (if any) as is just and proper; and
 - (iii) if the worker is a minor who is not entitled under the terms of any award order or determination of an industrial authority, any industrial agreement or any law to receive the same rate of pay as an adult, "$42.75" shall be deemed to be substituted for "$57.00" in the application of the provisions of paragraph 1 (b) or (c) in relation to the worker while he or she remains such a minor; and
- (c) where the worker is totally incapacitated for work by the injury, eligibility for weekly payment under paragraph 1 (b) in respect of a child born after the date of the injury shall not accrue until the date of birth of the child.

2A. For the purposes of subparagraph 2 (b) (ii), no regard shall be had to any payment, allowance or benefit that is payable to the worker by his or her employer under the terms of an award, order or determination of an industrial authority, under the terms of an industrial agreement or under the terms of the contract of service or apprenticeship between the worker and his or her employer whereby provision is made, in the event of the worker being totally or partially incapacitated for work in circumstances to which this Act applies, for the payment by the employer to the worker of a weekly amount equal to the amount by which the weekly amount payable as compensation is less than a weekly amount ascertained or calculated in accordance with those terms.

3. The amount of family allowance paid under Part X of the Social Security Act 1947 of the Commonwealth in respect of a child shall be disregarded in ascertaining, for the purposes of this Schedule, whether or not that child is or was dependent upon the earnings of the worker.

4. For the purposes of this Schedule—

- (a) "pay" means the salary or wages of the worker, and includes—
 - (i) where at the date of the injury the worker was engaged in part-time work—his or her earnings from any other employment; and
 - (ii) unless otherwise prescribed—any allowance payable to the worker in respect of his or her employment;

Workers' Compensation Act 1951

but subject to the regulations, does not include any allowance which is intermittent or which is payable in respect of special expenses incurred or likely to be incurred by the worker in respect of his or her employment; and

- (b) any reference to the weekly pay of the worker at the date of the injury means, if the rate of pay of workers of the same class is subsequently varied by competent authority or following upon a variation in the cost of living, the rate of pay as so varied.

5. Where a worker has given notice of an injury, or has made a claim for compensation for an injury, the worker shall, if so required by the employer, submit himself or herself for examination by a medical practitioner provided and paid by the employer, and, if the worker refuses to submit himself or herself to the examination, or in any way obstructs the examination, the worker's right to compensation, and to take or prosecute any proceedings under this Act in relation to compensation, shall be suspended until the examination has taken place.

6. A payment in the case of death (including a payment under clause 9A) shall, unless otherwise ordered in pursuance of the provisions of this Schedule, be paid into the Court and any sum so paid into Court shall, subject to Rules of Court, and the provisions of this Schedule, be invested, applied or otherwise dealt with by the Court in such manner as the Court in its discretion thinks fit for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto under this Act, or (except in the case of a payment under clause 9A) dealt with in accordance with section 25 of the Public Trustee Act 1985 and the receipt of the Registrar of the Court shall be a sufficient discharge in respect of the amount paid in:

Provided that, if so agreed, the payment in case of death shall, if the worker leaves no dependants, be made to his or her legal personal representative, or if the worker has no such representative, to the person to whom the expenses of medical treatment and the funeral are due.

6A. The Court may, in the case of weekly payments referred to in subparagraph 1 (a) (i) payable in respect of a particular child, order that, instead of those payments being paid into Court, those payments be made, until the Court otherwise orders, to such person as the Court specifies in the order to be applied for the benefit of the child.

7. (1) Where weekly payments (other than payments referred to in subparagraph 1 (a) (i)) are payable to a person under a legal disability, the Court may order that, until it otherwise orders—

- (a) the payments be paid into Court; or
- (b) the payments be made to such person as the Court specifies in the order to be applied for the benefit of the person under legal disability.

(2) Where a lump sum payment (other than a payment under clause 9A) is payable to a person under a legal disability, the payment shall, unless the Court otherwise orders, be paid into Court.

(3) Where under this clause the payment of a weekly payment or a lump sum payment is to be paid into Court, the provisions of clause 6 with respect to payments into Court in pursuance of that clause and, in the case of a lump sum payment, section 25 of the Public Trustee Act 1985 shall apply to sums paid into Court under this clause.

7A. An application for an order under clause 6A or 7 may be made on the application of the person liable to make the weekly payments or by or on behalf of the person to whom or in respect of whom payments are payable.

8. Where there are both total and partial dependants and an application is made to the Court in accordance with the Rules of Court, the Court may allot the compensation partly to the total and partly to the partial dependants.

9. Where, on application being made in accordance with Rules of Court, it appears to the Court that, on account of neglect of children on the part of a widow, or on account of the variation of the circumstances of the various dependants, or for any other sufficient cause, an order of the Court or an award as to the apportionment amongst the several dependants of any sum paid as compensation, or as to the manner in which any sum payable to any such dependant is to be invested, applied, or otherwise dealt with ought to be varied, the Court may make such order for the variation of the former order or the award, as in the circumstances of the case, the Court may think just.

9A. Where—

- (a) a weekly payment under subparagraph 1 (a) (i) in respect of a child of a worker ceases to be payable; and
- (b) the aggregate amount of such weekly payments is less than $700; there is payable an additional amount of compensation equal to the difference between the aggregate amount and $700.

10. Any worker receiving weekly payments under this Act shall, if so required by the employer, from time to time submit himself or herself for examination by a medical practitioner provided and paid by the employer and if the worker refuses to submit himself or herself to the examination or in any way obstructs the examination, the worker's right to such weekly payments shall be suspended until the examination has taken place.

11. (1) A worker shall not be required to submit himself or herself for examination by a medical practitioner under clause 5 or 10 otherwise than in accordance with the regulations.

(2) Where a worker has so submitted himself or herself for examination by a medical practitioner, or has been examined by a medical practitioner selected by himself or herself, and the employer or the worker, as the case may be, has within 6 days after such examination furnished the other with a copy of the report of that practitioner as to the worker's condition, then, in the absence of agreement between the employer and the worker as to the worker's condition or fitness for employment, the Registrar of the Court may, on an application being made by either of the parties and on payment of such fee not exceeding $2.00, as may be prescribed, refer the matter to a medical referee.

(3) The medical referee to whom the matter is so referred shall, in accordance with the regulations, give a certificate as to the condition of the worker and his or her fitness for employment, specifying, where necessary, the kind of employment for which the worker is fit and that certificate shall be conclusive evidence as to the matters so certified until such time as the worker's claim is the subject of arbitration in accordance with Schedule 4.

(4) Where no agreement can be come to between the employer and the worker as to whether or to what extent the incapacity of the worker is due to the injury, this paragraph shall, subject to the regulations, apply as if the question were a question as to the condition of the worker.

(5) If a worker, on being required so to do, refuses to submit himself or herself for examination by a medical referee to whom the matter has been so referred, or in any way obstructs the medical referee, his or her right to compensation and to take or prosecute any proceeding under this Act in relation to compensation, or, in the case of a worker in receipt of a weekly payment, his or her right to that weekly payment shall be suspended until the examination has taken place.

(6) Rules of Court may be made for prescribing the manner in which documents are to be furnished or served and applications made under this clause, the forms to be used for these purposes and the fees to be paid under this clause.

12. A weekly payment (other than a weekly payment referred to in subparagraph (1) (a) (i)) payable under this Act may be varied or ended by agreement or by arbitration under this Act or ended in accordance with section 26C or 26E of this Act.

13. Where, in any case other than one of total and permanent incapacity, any weekly payment (other than a weekly payment referred to in subparagraph (1) (a) (i)) has been continued for not less than 6 months, the liability therefor may be redeemed by the payment of a lump sum of such amount as may be settled by agreement (subject to clause 10 of Schedule 4) or, upon application by or on behalf of the employer with the consent of the worker, by arbitration under this Act, and the lump sum may be ordered by the Court to be invested or otherwise applied for the benefit of the person entitled thereto.

14. If a worker receiving a weekly payment ceases to reside in Australia, the worker shall thereupon cease to be entitled to receive any weekly payment, unless a medical referee certifies that the incapacity resulting from the injury is likely to be of a permanent nature or that the worker's absence from Australia is desirable for recuperative purposes. If a medical referee so certifies the worker shall be entitled to receive quarterly the amount of the weekly payments accruing due during the preceding quarter, so long as the worker proves in such a manner and at such intervals as may be prescribed, his or her identity and the continuance of the incapacity in respect of which the weekly payment is payable.

15. A weekly payment, or a sum paid by way of redemption thereof, shall not be capable of being assigned, charged, or attached, and shall not pass to any other person by operation of law, nor shall any claim be set off against the amount of the payment or sum.

16. Where under this Schedule a right to compensation is suspended no compensation shall be payable in respect of the period of suspension.

SCHEDULE 4

Section 24

RULES RELATING TO ARBITRATIONS UNDER THIS ACT

1. For the purpose of settling any matter which, under this Act, is to be settled by arbitration, if any committee, representative of an employer and the employer's workers, exists with power to settle matters under this Act in the case of the employer and workers, the matter shall, unless either party objects by notice in writing sent to the other party before the committee meets to consider the matter, be settled by the arbitration of the committee, or be referred by it, in its discretion, to arbitration as provided in this Schedule.

2. If either party so objects, or there is no such committee, or the committee so refers the matter or fails to settle the matter within 1 month from the date of the claim, the matter shall be settled by the Court by arbitration.

3. The Commercial Arbitration Act 1986 does not apply to an arbitration under this Act, but a committee may, if it thinks fit, submit a question of law for the decision of the Court.

4. The Court shall, for the purposes of proceedings under this Act, have the same powers of procuring the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents as if the proceedings were an action in the Court.

5. The Court may, if it thinks fit, summon a medical referee to sit with it as an assessor.

6. Rules of Court may make provision for the appearance, in any arbitration under this Act, of any party by some other person.

6A. Subject to this Act, the Regulations and the Rules of Court, in an arbitration under this Act—

- (a) the procedure of the Court is within the discretion of the Court;
- (b) the Court or the committee is not bound to act in a formal manner and is not bound by rules of evidence but may inform itself on any matter in such manner as it thinks fit; and
- (c) the Court or committee shall act according to equity, good conscience and the substantial merits of the case, without regard to technicalities and legal forms.

7. (1) A committee or the Court shall not award the costs of, or incidental to, an arbitration or any connected proceedings against a person claiming compensation in good faith in that arbitration or those proceedings.

(2) The costs of, and incidental to, an arbitration or any connected proceedings—

- (a) shall not exceed the limit prescribed by Rules of Court; and
- (b) shall be taxed in the manner prescribed by those Rules.

(3) The Court may review the taxation referred to in paragraph (2) (b).

9. Where an agreement has been made before ascertainment of compensation between a worker and his or her employer for payment of a lump sum by way of compromise and satisfaction of all claims, or the amount of compensation has been ascertained, or any weekly payment varied or terminated, or any other matter decided, under this Act, either by a committee or by agreement, a memorandum thereof may be sent, in the manner (if any) prescribed by Rules of Court, by the committee, or by any party interested, to the Registrar of the Court, who shall, subject to those Rules, on being satisfied as to its genuineness, record the memorandum in a special register without fee, and thereupon the memorandum shall for all purposes be enforceable as a judgment of the Court:

Provided that—

Workers' Compensation Act 1951

- (a) no such memorandum shall be recorded before 7 days after the despatch by the Registrar of notice to the parties interested;
- (b) where a worker seeks to record a memorandum of agreement made with his or her employer for the payment of compensation, and the employer, in accordance with Rules of Court, proves that the worker has in fact returned to work and is earning the same wages as he or she did before the injury, and objects to the recording of the memorandum, the memorandum shall only be recorded, if at all, on such terms as the Court, under the circumstances, thinks just;
- (c) the Court may at any time rectify its register;
- (d) where it appears to the Registrar of the Court, on any information which the Clerk considers sufficient, that an agreement made before ascertainment of compensation between a worker and the worker's employer for payment of a lump sum by way of compromise in satisfaction of all claims or an agreement as to the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum, or an agreement as to the amount of compensation payable to a person under any legal disability, or to dependants, ought not to be registered by reason of the inadequacy of the sum or amount, or by reason of the agreement having been obtained by fraud or undue influence, or other improper means, the Clerk may refuse to record the memorandum of the agreement sent to him or her for registration, and refer the matter to the Court, which shall, in accordance with Rules of Court, make such order (including an order as to any sum already paid under the agreement) as under the circumstances it thinks just; and
- (e) the Court may, within six months after a memorandum of an agreement as to compromise of claims or the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum or of an agreement as to the amount of compensation payable to a person under any legal disability, or to dependants, has been recorded in the register, order that the record be removed from the register on proof to its satisfaction that the agreement was obtained by fraud or undue influence or other improper means, and may make such order (including an order as to any sum already paid under the agreement) as under the circumstances it thinks just.

10. An agreement as to the redemption of a weekly payment by a lump sum, if not registered in accordance with this Act, shall not, nor shall the payment of the sum payable under the agreement, exempt the person by whom the weekly payment is payable from liability to continue to make that weekly payment, and an agreement as to the amount of compensation to be paid to a person under a legal disability or to dependants, if not so registered, shall not, nor shall the payment of the sum payable under the agreement, exempt the person by whom the compensation is payable from liability to pay compensation, unless, in either case, the person proves that the failure to register was not due to any neglect or default on the person's part.

11. The duty of the Court under this Act shall, subject to Rules of Court, be part of the duties of the Court, and the officers of the Court shall act accordingly.

12. No court fee, except such as may be prescribed under clause 11 of Schedule 1, shall be payable by any party in respect of any proceedings by or against a worker under this Act in the Court prior to the award.

13. Any sum awarded as compensation shall, unless paid into Court, be paid on the receipt of the person to whom it is payable under any agreement or award, and the legal practitioner or agent of a person claiming compensation under this Act shall not be entitled to recover from the person any costs in respect of any proceedings in an arbitration under this Act or to claim a lien in respect of those costs on, or deduct those costs from, the sum awarded or agreed as compensation, except such sum as may be awarded by the committee or the Court, on an application made either by the person claiming compensation, or by the person's legal practitioner or agent, to determine the amount of costs to be paid to the legal practitioner or agent, such sum to be awarded subject to taxation and to the scale of costs prescribed by Rules of Court.

Workers' Compensation Act 1951

14. A committee or the Court may, subject to regulations made under this Act, submit to a medical referee for report any matter which seems material to any question arising in the arbitration.

15. The Minister may, by order, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions or modifications as he or she thinks fit, confer on any committee representative of an employer and the employer's workers, in respect of any matter in which the committee acts as an arbitrator, or which is settled by agreement submitted to and approved by the committee, all or any of the powers conferred by this Act exclusively on the Court, and may by the order provide how and to whom compensation money is to be paid in cases where, but for the order, the money would require to be paid into Court, and the order may exclude from the operation of paragraphs 9 (d) and (e) agreements submitted to and approved by the committee, and may contain such incidental, consequential, or supplemental provisions as appear to the Minister to be necessary or proper for the purposes of the order.
