About this republication

The republished law

This is a republication of the Territory Records Act 2002 (including any amendment made under the Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 (Editorial changes)) as in force on 26 November 2010. It also includes any amendment, repeal or expiry affecting the republished law to 26 November 2010.

The legislation history and amendment history of the republished law are set out in endnotes 3 and 4.

Kinds of republications

The Parliamentary Counsel's Office prepares 2 kinds of republications of ACT laws (see the ACT legislation register at www.legislation.act.gov.au):

- authorised republications to which the Legislation Act 2001 applies
- unauthorised republications.

The status of this republication appears on the bottom of each page.

Editorial changes

The Legislation Act 2001, part 11.3 authorises the Parliamentary Counsel to make editorial amendments and other changes of a formal nature when preparing a law for republication. Editorial changes do not change the effect of the law, but have effect as if they had been made by an Act commencing on the republication date (see Legislation Act 2001, s 115 and s 117). The changes are made if the Parliamentary Counsel considers they are desirable to bring the law into line, or more closely into line, with current legislative drafting practice.

This republication includes amendments made under part 11.3 (see endnote 1).

Uncommenced provisions and amendments

If a provision of the republished law has not commenced or is affected by an uncommenced amendment, the symbol U appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the uncommenced provision or amendment appears only in the last endnote.

Modifications

If a provision of the republished law is affected by a current modification, the symbol M appears immediately before the provision heading. The text of the modifying provision appears in the endnotes. For the legal status of modifications, see Legislation Act 2001, section 95.

Penalties

At the republication date, the value of a penalty unit for an offence against this law is $110 for an individual and $550 for a corporation (see Legislation Act 2001, s 133).

5 Notes

A note included in this Act is explanatory and is not part of this Act.

Note See Legislation Act, s 127 (1), (4) and (5) for the legal status of notes.

5A Offences against Act—application of Criminal Code etc

Other legislation applies in relation to offences against this Act.

Note 1 Criminal Code

Example—electronic form

making an electronic copy of the list available on a website

Note 1 An executive record becomes an accessible executive document on its earliest release day (see s 31B, defs of accessible executive record and earliest release day).

Note 2 An example is part of the Act, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

- (2) If a release restraint determination is in force in relation to an executive record, the principal officer must—
- (a) arrange for the determination to be listed in relation to the entry for the executive record; and
 - (b) include a reviewable decision notice in the entry.

31D Requests for access

A person who wishes to have access to an accessible executive record may apply to the principal officer.

31E Giving access to accessible executive records—no release restraint determination

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) the principal officer receives a request from a person under section 31D for access to an accessible executive record; and
 - (b) no release restraint determination is in force in relation to the record.

- (2) The principal officer must, without charge, give the person a copy of the accessible executive record as soon as practicable after receiving the request.

31F Giving access to accessible executive records—release restraint determination

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) the principal officer receives a request from a person under section 31D for access to an accessible executive record; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the principal officer has decided, or decides, to make a release restraint determination about the record (see section 31G (Release delayed or denied)); or
 - (ii) a release restraint determination about the record is in force.
- (2) If a release restraint determination about the record is in force, the principal officer must, without charge—
- (a) for any part of the record to which the determination does not apply—give the person a copy of the part as soon as practicable after receiving the request; and
 - (b) for any part of the record to which the determination applies—
 - (i) if the request is made before the later release day for the part—refuse the request; or
 - (ii) if the request is made on or after the later release day for the part—give the person a copy of the part as soon as practicable after receiving the request.

- (3) However, the principal officer must refuse a request for a copy of a part of a record if—
- (a) a release restraint determination is in force determining the part to contain protected private information; and
 - (b) the determination provides that the part is not to be released at all.
- (4) Despite subsections (2) (b) (i) and (3), the principal officer must give a person a copy of a part of the record as soon as practicable after receiving the request if—
- (a) a release restraint determination is in force determining the part to contain protected private information; and
 - (b) either—
 - (i) the protected private information relates only to that person; or
 - (ii) if the person to whom the information relates is dead—the person requesting the copy is the dead person’s legal personal representative.

Example

If the protected private information relates to a number of people, and is made jointly by all those people, or by a person with the authority of all those people, s (4) (b) would apply to allow the request to be granted.

Note An example is part of the Act, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

- (5) If the principal officer has made a release restraint determination about the record that is in force, the principal officer must (whether the principal officer gives the person a copy of any part of the record), as soon as practicable after receiving the request, give the person—
- (a) a copy of the determination; and

- (b) if the determination was made after the request was received—a reviewable decision notice.

31G Release delayed or denied

- (1) Before giving a copy of an accessible executive record to a person under section 31E or section 31F, the principal officer must assess whether it contains information that would, at the time of the assessment, make it an exempt document under the Freedom of Information Act 1989, part 4 (Exempt documents), other than section 35 (Executive documents).
- (2) The principal officer may determine (by a release restraint determination)—
 - (a) that any part of the record containing the information is only to be released on or after the later release day; or
 - (b) for any information (protected private information) that would, at the time of the assessment, make it an exempt document under the Freedom of Information Act 1989, section 41 (Documents affecting personal privacy)—
 - (i) that the part containing the information is only to be released on or after the later release day; or
 - (ii) that the part containing the information is not to be released at all.
- (3) The determination must state the reasons for making the determination.
- (4) Unless the determination states that the relevant part of the document is not to be released at all (see subsection (2) (b) (ii)), it—
 - (a) may determine a day for subsection (7) (a), by stating a particular day or providing a way of working out the day; and
 - (b) must explain how the later release day for the document is worked out under subsection (7).

- (5) A copy of the determination must be kept with the record.
- (6) The determination commences on the day it is made.
- (7) The later release day for a part of the record is the earliest of the following:
 - (a) the determined day (if any) under subsection (4) (a);
 - (b) the day 5 years after the record's earliest release day;
 - (c) the next Canberra Day after the end of 20 years after the record's submission day;
 - (d) if the determination ceases to be in force—the day it ceases to be in force.

Note The chief executive may, by instrument, change or revoke a release restraint determination at any time after its making. The power to change or revoke the determination is exercisable in the same way, and subject to the same conditions, as the power to make the determination (see Legislation Act, s 46).

This part must not be interpreted as restricting any right of access to information under the Freedom of Information Act 1989.

31I Internal review notice—release restraint determination

 - (a) whether the person has the right to apply for internal review of the determination or the right to apply to the ACAT for review of the determination, and how the application must be made; and

- (b) if the person has the right to apply for internal review of the determination—that the person has the right to apply to the ACAT for the review of the decision on the internal review if the person is dissatisfied with that decision.

31J Internal review of certain determinations

- (2) The principal officer must arrange for someone else (the internal reviewer) to review the determination.
- (3) However, this section does not apply to a release restraint determination made personally by the principal officer.

Note Section 31M provides for review, by ACAT, of release restraint determinations exempt from internal review.

31K Internal review—application

- (1) An application for internal review of an internally reviewable determination must be made within—
 - (a) 28 days after the day when the applicant is told about the determination by the principal officer; or
 - (b) any longer period allowed by the internal reviewer, whether before or after the end of the 28-day period.
- (2) The application must set out the grounds on which internal review of the determination is sought.
- (3) The making of the application for internal review does not affect the operation of the determination.

31L Internal review

- (1) The internal reviewer must review the internally reviewable determination, and confirm, vary or revoke the determination, within 5 business days after the principal officer receives the application for internal review of the determination.

Note For the meaning of business day, see the Legislation Act, dictionary, pt 1.
