Reason for imprisonment

The young fine defaulter is liable to pay—

- a fine payable under a fine order under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005 (the fine).
- a fee or charge payable to the Territory imposed by a court in a proceeding for an offence (the fine).
- costs payable to the Territory under a court order in a proceeding for an offence (the fine).
- a levy imposed under the Victims of Crime (Financial Assistance) Act 1983 (the fine).
- a financial penalty imposed, otherwise than under the Crimes (Sentencing) Act 2005, in relation to an offence (the fine).

- ❑ a victims services levy imposed under the Victims of Crime Act 1994, in relation to an offence (the fine).
- ❑ an amount payable to the Territory under a court order under the Bail Act 1992, section 37 (3).

The young fine defaulter has defaulted in payment of all or part of the fine or all or part of an administrative fee that the young fine defaulter is liable to pay (the outstanding fine).

The Court—

- (a) has assessed the young fine defaulter's capacity to pay the fine and is satisfied the young fine defaulter has the capacity to pay; and
- (b) has offered the young fine defaulter an arrangement under section 152 (Special arrangements) about the payment of the fine; and
- (c) has notified the road transport authority as required under section 153 (1) (Notice for suspension of driver licence etc).

The Court made an order on (insert date) under the Magistrates Court Act 1930, section 154E, to imprison the fine defaulter for the period stated in this warrant.

This warrant is issued under the Crimes (Sentence Administration) Act 2005, section 12.

Notice to fine defaulter

Unless you are otherwise lawfully detained, you will be released from imprisonment immediately on paying the outstanding fine to the Territory (through the registrar or the chief executive).

Your imprisonment discharges your liability to pay the outstanding fine—

- (a) at the rate of $300 for each day or part of a day for which you are detained under this warrant; or
- (b) if you are committed for 7 days—at the end of the 7-day period.
