

Australian Capital Territory

Public Place Names (Macgregor) Determination 2010 (No 2)

Disallowable instrument DI2010 -139

made under the

Public Place Names Act 1989— Section 3 (Minister to determine names)

I REVOKE DI2010-88 and

I DETERMINE the names of the public places that are Territory land as specified in the attached schedule and as indicated on the associated plan.

Neil Savery
Delegate of the Minister

24 June 2010

SCHEDULE

Public Place Names (Macgregor) Determination 2010 (No 2)

Division of Macgregor: Medical profession

| NAME | ORIGIN | SIGNIFICANCE |
|------------------------------|--|--|
| Boelke Place | Grace Fairley Boelke (1870-1948) | Medical practitioner Grace Boelke was one of the first women medical graduates of the University of Sydney. She was founder of the Professional Women's Association and a strong advocate of improved conditions for women. |
| Herring Place | Dame Mary Ranken Lyle Herring DBE(C), CStJ (1895-1981) | Medical practitioner and community worker Dame Mary Herring was one of the first women medical graduates of the University of Melbourne. She achieved first class honours in all subjects. Mary was appointed Dame Commander of the Order of the British Empire in 1960 for service to nursing in Victoria. |
| | Mary Cecile (Molly) Longfield nee Herring (1924-2007) | Medical practitioner Daughter of Dame Mary and Sir Edmund Herring. Mary worked tirelessly for the good of her patients. |
| Ida Birchall Crescent | Ida Lois Birchall MBE(C) (1906-1994) | Obstetrician and gynaecologist Ida Birchall was one of Tasmania's first female doctors. She became the first Tasmanian member of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists in 1936. She was appointed Member of the Order of the British Empire for services to medicine in 1969. |

Rag Holmes Street

Roland Adrian
Glennie (Rag)
Holmes AM
(1918-2007)

Medical practitioner and community worker

Rag Holmes was a World War II medical officer before settling in Yass, NSW, where he practised for 35 years in partnership with Dr David Graham. These were medically challenging years when accidents were frequent on the Hume Highway and before Canberra was equipped with advanced medical services. He was an accomplished musician and in 1983 was appointed a member of the Order of Australia and later awarded a Centenary Medal for his voluntary service to the community.

DIVISION OF MACGREGOR