NAME	ORIGIN	SIGNIFICANCE
Honeysett View	Joseph Huxley Honeysett MC (1888 – 1968)	Administrator with the Federal Capital Commission Captain Joe Honeysett served with the AIF in WWI; captured by the Germans at Bullecourt, he was awarded the Military Cross in 1920. Came to Canberra in 1925 to take up the position of Social Service Officer with the Federal Capital Commission; organised recreation services for public servants transferred to Canberra and the influx of construction workers; an advocate for equitable access to community services. Managed the part-time tourist bureau at Hotel Kurrajong, edited the monthly 'Canberra Community News' and served as general secretary of the Canberra Social Service Association (which oversaw the construction of the Causeway Hall); committee member of a number of local associations. Later worked in the Department of Interior as a Commonwealth Liaison Officer and served in senior roles to several Commonwealth Ministers. Awarded the Queen Elizabeth II Coronation Medal in 1953.
Kerridge Street	George Hay Kerridge (1909-2003)	Early Canberra resident, stonemason George Kerridge emigrated from Scotland to Canberra in 1928 with his mother and siblings to join his father who worked in the Carpenter and Joiners shop near the Power House. The family lived at the Molonglo Settlement for several years and later moved to Ainslie. George worked as a stonemason and took over the monument business of the late J Shakespeare in 1949; his stonemasonry skills are evidenced around Canberra including works completed at St John's Church, Old Parliament House, the W.J. Farrer Memorial at Lambrigg and an Air Force Memorial on the Federal Highway.
