

Road Transport (General) Application of Road Transport Legislation (Deciding Applications for Registration – Taxi) Declaration 2022 (No 1)

Disallowable instrument DI2022-230

made under the

Road Transport (General) Act 1999*, section 13 (Power to exclude vehicles, persons or animals from road transport legislation)

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

This instrument is made under section 13 of the Road Transport (General) Act 1999 (the Act).

Section 13 of the Act confers power upon the Minister to declare that the road transport legislation, or a provision of the road transport legislation, does not apply to a vehicle, person or animal in a place or circumstance stated in the declaration.

The declaration has effect until it is revoked or, if a period is stated in the declaration, for that period.

A declaration under subsection 13 (1) is a disallowable instrument.

Road transport legislation is defined in section 6 of the Act and includes any other Act or any regulation prescribed by regulation. The Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Regulation 2000 forms part of the road transport legislation.

This instrument declares that section 32B of the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Regulation 2000 is not applied to a number of specified taxi vehicles. This is to support a number of vehicle operators within the ACT taxi industry who are currently awaiting the delivery of new vehicles.

BACKGROUND

Taxis provide an essential service to the ACT community, especially for our vulnerable community members including people with disability and the elderly.

One of the requirements to be registered as a taxi in the ACT is that vehicles must meet maximum use or age requirements in section 32B of the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Regulation 2000.

The ACT taxi industry continues to be impacted by COVID-19, including by the global supply chain issues causing a worldwide shortage of new vehicles.

The motor vehicle industry is experiencing global manufacturer supply issues, which has resulted in many taxi operators being unable to secure new vehicles, in order to meet the age and use requirements under section 32B of the Road Transport (Vehicle Registration) Regulation 2000.

Three taxi operators have demonstrated exceptional circumstances in relation to vehicles they have contracted to purchase. These operators' current vehicles are identified in clause five of this Disallowable Instrument.

HUMAN RIGHTS IMPLICATIONS

During the development of this instrument, due regard was given to its effect in relation to the compatibility with human rights as set out in the Human Rights Act 2004 (HRA).

The right to work and other work-related rights

This instrument promotes the right to work and other work-related rights (section 27B).

Section 27B of the HRA provides that everyone has the right to work, including:

- (1) the right to choose their occupation or profession freely;
- (2) the right to the enjoyment of just and favourable conditions of work;
- (3) the right to form or join a work-related organisation, including a trade union, with the objective of promoting or protecting their economic or other social interests;
- (4) the right to protection against acts of anti-union discrimination in relation to their employment;
- (5) everyone is entitled to enjoy these rights without discrimination.

Progressing the instrument to extend the time limit during which existing vehicles can continue to be used as taxis supports the right of the operators of these taxis to work.
