3 Position for display of public vehicle driver authority cards – sedans and passenger vans

- (1) For a sedan, a public vehicle driver authority card may be displayed within the shaded area of the diagram below so that the information on the photo-side of the card can reasonably be read by a passenger in any of the passenger seating positions in the sedan.
- (2) For a passenger van, a public vehicle driver authority card may be displayed within the shaded area of the diagram below so that the information on the photo-side of the card can reasonably be seen by a passenger in any of the passenger seating positions in the van.

*Name amended under Legislation Act, s 60

Example of public vehicle driver authority card displayed within shaded area

The public vehicle driver authority card displayed in the following photograph is displayed within the shaded area of the diagram.

Note An example is part of the instrument, is not exhaustive and may extend, but does not limit, the meaning of the provision in which it appears (see Legislation Act, s 126 and s 132).

4 Position for display of public vehicle driver authority cards – buses

- (1) For a bus, the photo-side side of a public vehicle driver authority card may be displayed above the bus's windscreen in accordance with the photographs below.
- (2) However, if the bus has a front-area layout similar to that of a sedan, the photo-side side of a public vehicle driver authority card may be displayed within the shaded area shown in the diagram for clause 3.

Note A driver who is authorised under a law of another jurisdiction to drive a public vehicle for hire or reward that has been issued a driver photographic identity card (however described) under that jurisdiction's law for use when operating the public vehicle may continue to display the driver's home-jurisdiction identity card while driving in the ACT and is not required to also display an ACT-issued public vehicle driver authority card (see Road Transport (Public Passenger Services) Regulation 2002, s 306, def driver authority card, par (b)).
